Senate Authorizes Dry Order Probe

PRESIDENT IS FIRM ON NEW BOOZERULING

Coolidge Unable to See How State's Rights Are Affected by Regulation

U. S. ACTION INVITED
Modification Will Result If Experience Discloses Idea Is Not Practicable

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The senate today instructed the judiciary committee to investigate the legality of the executive order issued by President Coolidge to authorize designation of state, county and municipal officers as federal prohibition agents.

The action came after heated debate in which many senators denounced the order as an invasion of state's rights and others defended it as harmless.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 25.—President Coolidge fails to see how the recent executive order allowing state, county and municipal officers to be appointed federal prohibition agents is an infringement upon state's rights or constitutional government, his spokesmen declared today.

The president feels that the states have not only invited federal enforcement of the prohibition act, but have commanded the federal government to enter state boundaries to carry out the enforcement.

The president has been informed by the treasury department that the order was not meant to allow state officers to cross state boundaries in pursuit of liquor law violators. That department would not undertake such action, it was said officially.

May Be Modified
If experience proves that the order is not practicable, the president wishes it to be modified.

The president feels that the feeling over his order has been exaggerated and that it is not as important as it has been pictured.

Prohibition statutes of the states themselves will affect the operation of the order, it was pointed out.

Mr. Coolidge feels that the states should not view the order as infringing on their rights, it was said.

Meantime, a joint resolution nullifying the president's prohibition order was introduced in the house by representative Hill, Republican, Maryland.

Under Hill's resolution, state officers would be required to give up their posts if they accepted commissions from the federal government to enforce the dry law.

Congress Renews Attack
Congress today renewed its attack on President Coolidge's order authorizing use of state, county and municipal officers as federal dry agents at a nominal salary.

An opinion by Attorney General Sargent, holding the order legal, was not accepted as final. Sargent maintained there is no statute to prevent a man from holding such dual offices.

Because of the legal precedent involved in its relations to state's rights, the order will be fought to the limit. Constitutional lawyers in congress fear, if the order is allowed to stand, it may lead to the federal government "taking over other state functions in the future."

Senator King, Democrat, Utah, announced his intention of demanding action upon his resolution which would authorize the senate judiciary committee to investigate

Messenger Is Robbed of $34,000 Cash

NEW YORK, May 25.—Two bandits robbed a messenger of the Hamilton National bank of $34,000 in currency in front of the bank, in the Bronx, today. As David F. Swinton, negro messenger, left the bank with a satchel of money for the main office, two men attacked him. He was knocked unconscious and the men took the money, jumped into an automobile and sped away.

IRVIN COBB AND JOYCE HAWLEY ARE WITNESSES

(By United Press)
NEW YORK, May 25.—Joyce Hawley, "the girl in the bath tub" of the Earl Carroll perjury case, today told her story of Carroll's now famous party.

Court has been in recess following completion of the testimony of Irvin S. Cobb, awaiting Joyce's arrival.

Cobb's direct examination was brief. He told of attending the party which Carroll gave February 22-23. On cross-examination he gave more details, however.

"Now, you are one of our foremost writers of New York," Herbert Smythe, Carroll's lawyer, said.

"In my own opinion, I am," answered Cobb.

He said he had spent the hours at the party chatting with friends and watching the dancing.

Proper for Broadway
"It seemed to me, measured by the accepted standards of Broadway, perfectly proper," he said.

Asked whether he had partaken of any refreshments, he said he had "two glasses of beer—or it had the appearance of beer—and a bottle of White Rock."

The questioning then turned to ginger ale.

Cobb said he saw around the stage some boxes which he thought were labeled "Paul Roger ginger ale." He spelled the name "Paul Roger" but on being reminded, said he guessed it was "Pol Roger." He had not tasted any of the liquid.

"Did you see the contents of the tub?" Cobb was asked.

He said he had, and on being asked regarding it, suggested perhaps he had better describe it.

"It was of a pinkish hue," said Cobb, "darker than any straw-colored or white wine and paler than red wine I have ever seen. It was neither red nor yellow, but rosy. I have never seen any like it."

"Did it resemble champagne?" Smythe asked.

Wasn't Like Champagne
"It did not resemble any champagne I have seen," said the author.

"Do you drink?" he was asked.

"I don't drink brandy or whiskey except for medicinal purposes," he answered.

"I don't drink champagne. I occasionally drink a cocktail if I am sure that the alcoholic content will not be immediately fatal."

Miss Hawley said that, on the night of the party, she had several drinks and that "they made me drunk."

"When you got into the bath tub were you drunk or sober?" she was asked.

"I was drunk,"

Herbert C. Smythe, Carroll's counsel, cross-examined her, suggesting that perhaps she didn't remember things.

"I do remember things, but I was feeling very good. I had to feel good to do a thing like that."

Miss Hawley charged that Chris Seale, representative of Earl Carroll, offered to give her $250 if she would tell the federal grand jury the tub did not contain champagne.

This, she said, she had refused to do.

BUILDING BILL SIGNED
WASHINGTON, May 25.—President Coolidge today signed the $165,000,000 public buildings bill.

DICTATOR IN POLAND HELD TO BE NEAR

Legislative Body to Survive Nominally, But It Will Be Shorn of Power

WOULD DISSOLVE SEJM
Pilsudski Plans to Issue Emergency Decrees and Place Self in Control

(By United Press)
WARSAW, May 25.—The new Polish government has openly threatened to establish a dictatorship whereby parliament will survive nominally, but actually will be superseded.

It was learned that, after the convening of parliament next Monday, Marshal Josef Pilsudski, victorious in his coup d'etat, intends to force the dissolution of the sejm and proclaim a dictatorship on the basis of constitutional prerogatives.

Left wing groups demand the forcible ousting of Pilsudski, president of the province of Posen, where counter revolutionists are strong.

Meanwhile the Pilsudski-Bartel regime is formulating a demand for an extension of the president's powers.

In case parliament does not accede to the demand, Pilsudski intends to issue emergency decrees.

PB-1 COMMANDER UNDER INDICTMENT

SEATTLE, May 25.—Lt. Com James Hale Strong, naval aviator, who commanded the seaplane PB-1 in the San Francisco-Honolulu air flight a year ago, is named in a warrant issued here in connection with a grand jury investigation of alleged liquor smuggling ring, it was revealed today.

The information came to light when U. S. Marshal Ed Benn reported to the court that he could not serve a secret warrant issued for Strong because Strong was outside his jurisdiction.

Strong, it was found, is now at San Diego, and the warrant will be forwarded there, it was expected.

While no details of Strong's connections with the rum ring have been divulged, it is believed his alleged liaison occurred last summer after he flew the PB-1 to Seattle and was stationed at the Boeing airplane factory testing planes.

When the grand jury returned the indictments against the huge alleged liquor ring, prohibition agents declared that a naval officer was included in the list of indicted. This man, they say, used a naval plane to run between Seattle and Canada, bringing back record cargoes of liquor.

STRONG ENGAGED IN FLEET MANEUVERS.
SAN DIEGO, May 25.—Lt. Com James H. Strong, wanted in Seattle on a federal indictment, is now attached to the naval aircraft carrier Langley, at present engaged in fleet battle maneuvers off the Southern California coast. The Langley is based at San Pedro, and is not expected back here until Thursday or Friday.

Decision on this course by the grand jury followed action on the same problem into the board of county supervisors, which adopted a resolution, after heated debate, declaring violence attendant upon the strike is bringing the city into bad repute.

Violence continued rampant yesterday. A father and son, neither connected in any way with the strike, were beaten by a mob of 20 alleged union sympathizers. The father's arm and jaw were fractured and doubt was expressed today that he will recover. One non-union carpenter was beaten. One union carpenter was arrested for battery and picketing.

California Bank Men at Del Monte
DEL MONTE, Calif., May 25.—Bankers from all parts of California began gathering here today for their 32nd annual state convention, scheduled to open tomorrow. Four hundred delegates had registered today, and hotels of Del Monte, Carmel, Monterey and Pacific Grove were expected to be taxed to capacity.

HOT IN NEBRASKA
OMAHA, May 25.—The third day of intense heat dawned in Nebraska today, with temperatures at 7 a. m. equal to those at a similar hour yesterday. Yesterday the mercury rose to 95 degrees in Omaha and went to 100 in several smaller cities in the state.

Woman Mayor Is Guest at Beach
LONG BEACH, May 25.—Mrs. Bertha K. Landes, Seattle's mayor-elect, was guest of Long Beach officials today.

As guest of Mayor Fillmore, candidate City Manager C. S. Henderson, Mrs. Landes made some observations of the city manager form of government.

She spoke of law enforcement at the Congregational church here this afternoon.

The mayor-elect will leave tonight for Seattle.

Flyers Arrive At Charleston
CHARLESTON, S. C., May 25.—The hydroplane carrying Bernardo Dugan and his two Italian companions from New York to Buenos Aires arrived here today from Hampton Roads, Va.

The airman were forced down by engine trouble yesterday afternoon as they neared the Virginia capes. They left New York yesterday morning.

French Turn Down Krim Peace Offer

PARIS, May 25.—The council of ministers today rejected peace offers made by Abd-el-Krim, Riffian rebel leader, in letters to French authorities.

In rejecting the offers, they said Krim does not represent any power or even the opinion of his tribe.

The resignation was asked when Hamilton's citizenship fell below 50 merits, which is the minimum permitted under the service rating in force at the Santa Ana school.

Directly, the cause of the low citizenship of the student president was brought about by the penalty meted out to the seniors, who defied the administration by ditching school last Friday.

A double amount of 22 demerits was given to the ditching seniors, with whom Hamilton was implicated.

Miss Mary Jane Owens, vice president of the student body, will be head of the student affairs at the school for the remainder of the school year, Hammond indicated.

Several petitions were being circulated among the students at the school asking that Hamilton be allowed to retain his office. Student sentiment has been aroused to a high pitch and the students are protesting that "there is no real self-government in the schools."

Hammond said today that he would refuse to recognize the student petitions asking for reinstatement of Hamilton.

With Miss Owens in the presidency, the high school for the first time in more than a decade has a girl in the high office. She is also president of the Girls League and active in affairs of the student body.

The term of office for this year's officers is drawing to a close, however, and she will have but a few weeks to serve.

On Mysterious Mission
Mrs. Kennedy prepared this afternoon to leave Angelus temple on a secret and mysterious mission. She refused to divulge her destination, and appointed several trusted members of the church to accompany her as ushers and protect her "against newspapermen."

She declared she would remain in seclusion for some time.

It was believed that the manager of the McPherson cult was going to Mt. Carmel to pray.

Roberta, 15-year-old daughter of Sister Aimee, has been secluded in Pasadena, and her whereabouts kept a secret.

A squad of deep sea divers, equipped with fire department extension ladders and search tanks, undertook today to find the body of Mrs. McPherson.

A week has passed since the revivalist disappeared while bathing in the surf, and not a tangible hint of her whereabouts, dead or alive, has rewarded the efforts of thousands of searchers.

The deep sea divers, headed by Capt. Fred Henderson and Robert Hunt, began a systematic search of the ocean bed in the vicinity of the supposed drowning this morning.

Two fire department trucks stood by pumping air to the searchers below the surface.

Others Give Up Search
This means of attempting to find Mrs. McPherson's body was employed, despite the fact that other

Squad of Explorers Goes To Depths Searching for Body of Mrs. McPherson

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, May 25.—There is absolutely no hope on our part of Sister McPherson being alive on land or sea," Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of Aimee Semple McPherson, declared in a formal statement today on behalf of thousands of followers of the missing evangelist.

The statement was broadcast as the cult's reply to sensational rumors that Mrs. McPherson was not drowned a week ago as reported, but had merely vanished as a "publicity stunt" or as the result of amnesia, and would eventually return alive.

No Change in Theory
"We believe that she was gone when the first word came, and never for a moment learned anything to change our feelings," said the white-robed cult leader.

"We believe, however, that while her body is in the deep, and her soul with her Savior, that her beautiful spirit will ever abide not only in beautiful Angelus temple and her branches, but over KFSG and indeed throughout the world, where her countless myriads of converts to the Four Square Gospel abide."

"By God's grace and through his help, that spirit abiding with us, God's love in our hearts, and the world sister opened to us through His counsel, we will 'carry on,' keep the faith, point the world to his blessed Redeemer and meet Him and her in the morning, when mortality shall have put on immortality and where sorrow, heartbreak, parting and death are unknown."

In her statement, Mrs. Kennedy refused profers of outside evangelists to start a $10,000 fund to finance a search for Mrs. McPherson on the theory she may be alive.

Several strands of hair, believed those of Mrs. McPherson, were washed up in the surf near Venice today in the vicinity of her fatal swim. This caused a renewed search in the sea for the evangelist's body.

River Beds Hurlled Up 30 Feet and Water Spreads Over Adjoining Region

(By United Press)
TOKIO, May 25.—Long dormant volcanoes of northern Japan have burst into activity, spreading havoc.

The mountains are Tokachi and two, in Hokkaido. Rivers of lava poured from the peaks, searing an area of eight square miles, first reports said, and destroying 300 homes.

A thousand persons are missing from nearby farms, and destruction of a section of railway by lava floods is preventing relief trains from reaching the stricken area.

Dispatches from Sapporo said river beds were hurled up 30 feet by the upheaval and that a stream has flooded surrounding districts.

The health resort at Hokkaido was reported to have been destroyed, as well as a sulphur plant there. Hokkaido is the northernmost island of Japan.

One hundred and fifty persons are known to have been killed, dispatches said, and firemen searching the ruins have recovered fifty bodies. More than 200 were injured and almost 4000 persons are homeless in the area.

It was reported that the eruptions were continuing.

the legality of the order. The resolution charges its validity is dubious.

Cites Marshall Decision
Senator Bruce, Democrat, Maryland, followed up his charge that the order is an illegal usurpation of states' authority by citing a unanimous supreme court decision written by the eminent John Marshall in 1819, which he contended indicates the order is illegal.

Announcement from the treasury that the order would be effective only in a section of California did not quell the storm, opponents of the order questioning only the point of law involved and not the effect of the order itself.

Sargent, in his ruling, maintained there is no statute preventing a man from holding a state and a national office at the same time and no objection could lie against this particular order because the Volstead act seeks co-operation of the states in its enforcement.

Despite the fact, Attorney General Sargent ruled, that the order was "constitutional and legal" the treasury department is manifesting no enthusiasm over it and prohibition officials are backing down from their previous plans to use the new power to break up moonshining.

SAN FRANCISCO TO VOTE IN DRY LAW

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—While Californians continued divided in sentiment as to whether this state should be made the testing ground for the Coolidge-Andrews "dollar-a-year" prohibition agent plan, San Francisco, today prepared to register its opinion of prohibition at the polls.

Announcement by Col. Ned M. Green, local dry law enforcer and originator of the plan for auxiliary federal enforcement officers recruited from the ranks of constables, deputy sheriffs and policemen, that he would defer inauguration of the system in this section for some time at least, did not halt the flow of comment.

Colonel Green admitted that he

SANTA ANA IS FAR BEHIND IN RECREATIONAL ACTIVITIES, EXPERT ON PARKS DECLARES

That the citizens of Santa Ana who go to the polls tomorrow to determine whether Santa Ana shall have more and better parks may be aware of the park conditions of this city, as compared with other cities over the country, an interview was had with George W. Braden, special representative of the western division of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, in which Mr. Braden shows that Santa Ana is far behind in its recreational activities.

Presenting authentic figures on the amount of money appropriated in various cities for such purposes, Mr. Braden said: "Indicating the nation-wide interest in comprehensive city planning for playground and community recreation, last year 52 cities voted recreation bonds amounting to $7,426,852, and 663 cities spent $18,816,155 for operation of parks and playgrounds."

"There were 743 cities that reported they employed recreation leadership for the promotion of community programs, and 419 cities are maintaining 1730 park playgrounds. In addition to a large number of playgrounds and recreation centers maintained by school boards, there were gifts reported from 65 cities of recreational areas, valued at $1,493,000.

Value of Parks.
"Adequate parks and playgrounds are valuable for civic pride, community morale, health and physical fitness, a development of neighborhood spirit, and lessening of crime and juvenile delinquency. All of this is accomplished through the giving of opportunity for wholesome recreation in place of that which is vicious and demoralizing."

"It has been estimated that the beauty of Paris is worth $25,000,000 a year as income. All of the progressive cities of the United States have adopted comprehensive city planning for parks, playgrounds, parkways, boulevards and civic centers."

"Last year, the city of Pasadena voted $3,500,000 in bonds for development of its civic center. During the last two years, nine California cities have gone forward in securing recreation areas through bond issues or through large appropriations through the general tax funds."

Cities Vote Park Bonds.
Recently, Braden stated, Stockton issued bonds for $165,000; Santa Barbara, $185,000; Monrovia, $160,000; Long Beach, $800,000, and Santa Monica, $860,000.

Braden said that, of more than 50 cities in the west that he has visited during his present trip to the coast, Santa Ana, considering her population, has the poorest public recreation facilities.

"I regret to say this, but it is surely true," he remarked.

Our Neighbors

POMONA—With the announcement that a five-acre site had been purchased at the west city limits on the Southern Pacific right-of-way by the California Fruit Wrapping Mills, Inc., a $500,000 concern, word was also given out that work on the building of a huge plant to house the firm would begin this week. Announcement was also made that installation of machinery would probably start July 10, immediately after the completion of the building. These facts were made known by Erick Fernstrom, vice president of the company, and R. L. Knox and M. H. Potter, who have represented local interests in the establishment of the project here. The Fernstrom company of Norway and Sweden is backing the local concern.

LANKERSHIM—Latest reports by the telephone company show a continued increase in phones in San Fernando valley sections, one of the best indications of the gradual growth of population. Central station here now is serving 1032 phone subscribers, a gain of 5.31 per cent since the first of the year, compared with 2.12 per cent for 350 other western state stations. Van Nuys now has a total of 815 telephones, a 5.63 per cent gain since January 1. Burbank and Glendale also show large gains, according to the figures just disclosed by the company.

SANTA BARBARA—Ground was broken with impressive ceremonies for the $250,000 home for Santa Barbara Elks' club, a four-story, steel frame structure on the site of the smaller, which has served the organization. Superior Judge S. E. Crow, first exalted ruler of the lodge, was at the throng of the large steam shovel that turned the first earth. Henry C. Bohm of San Francisco, second exalted ruler, and Dr. J. C. Bainbridge of Santa Barbara, third ruler, with Exalted Ruler Ivan Bliss concluded the ceremony.

ALHAMBRA—Showing an increase of about 2000 over the total of one year ago, the official registration of voters in Alhambra for the general city election on June 8 is 11,371, according to the report of City Clerk Wallace. Last year's figure was 9405. The 1926 registration for the Alhambra school district is 18,033, in comparison with last year's total of 14,882. The registrations in the various sections of the Alhambra school district as reported by Mr. Wallace are: Alhambra city, 11,371; San Gabriel city, 1286; Monterey Park city, 2162; San Gabriel county district, 2433; San Marino city, 293; Belvedere county district, 207; El Monte county district, 44.

SAN DIEGO—San Diego's skyline, growing so rapidly in height and width, is to be further ornamented soon by the construction of what will be one of the finest "professional" office buildings in the country. It is the new Medico-Dental building, 13-stories high, to be erected at the northeast corner of Eleventh and C streets, at a cost of $1,000,000. Ground will be broken for this skyscraper within the next few weeks, it is announced, the project having been financed. The conveniences and equipment of this modern structure for the medical and dental fraternities will be the last word in all that is modern and efficient.

Unable to pay, today, the woman

The case against her husband, Peter Panconner, also charged with possession, was dismissed.

Officers raided the Panconner

Two $300 Fines
In Police Court

J. M. Duncan, Santa Ana man, heard Police Judge Andrew Wilson say the same thing twice in the way of a sentence, yesterday, when Duncan was tried on two separate liquor charges. Both times the judge said, "$300."

Duncan was arrested Sunday night by the police residential patrol, which charged him with possession of intoxicating liquor and transporting intoxicating liquor.
Duncan was given his preference of paying the $600 or spending 300 days in the county jail.

na, Balboa, Laguna Beach, and intermediate points, will be taken over by the Motor Transit company.

pupil in the Julia Lathrop junior high school, today was awarded first prize for the best poster submitted in the contest among pupils

ters.

Mabel Wilson, eighth grade,
Frances Willard junior high school, won second prize.

The prize-winning posters are on display in the J. C. Horton furniture store.

Decision was made on the basis of posters having the greatest appealing power in the sale of poppies here on Friday for the benefit of disabled World war veterans and nurses. Women of the American Legion auxiliary, to the number of 35 or 40, will sell poppies on the streets, the poppies having been made by disabled war veterans.

That pupils of the art departments of the public schools were keenly interested in the contest was evidenced by the 45 posters submitted. The artists displayed real ability in presenting on card board their conception of points that would carry the message of the campaign.

The judges were Horace Fine, of the Register staff; Jimmie Duggan, commercial artist, and Mrs. Almee Crawford, of the Crawford advertising agency and chairman of the publicity committee of the auxiliary. Present when the judges viewed the offerings were H. G.
Nelson, principal of Willard school;
Miss Dorothy Carothers, art teacher in the Lathrop school, and Miss

J. C. HAYDEN IS ADVANCED BY GAS COMPANY TO HEAD NEW DEPARTMENT IN LOS ANGELES

The transfer of J. C. Hayden, for the last several years district manager in charge of the properties of the Southern Counties Gas company in Santa Ana and throughout Orange county, to the Los Angeles offices of the company, was announced today by officials of the corporation.
This change became effective today and Hayden will assume his new duties at once, in charge of the company's new business department in Los Angeles.

J. C. Hayden will be succeeded by Charles E. Rutledge, formerly district manager of the company's distribution system and properties in the northern division, in Santa Barbara.

Rutledge arrived in Santa Ana Monday and immediately took over the organization's affairs in the division. Rutledge has been with the Southern Counties Gas company for a number of years and comes to this district highly recommended by officials of the utility.

A meeting of all Orange county employees of the Southern Counties Gas company was held last night in the Santa Ana gas office, where the retiring executive, J. C. Hayden, introduced the incoming Orange county district manager, Frank H.
Bivens, general agent for the corporation, with headquarters in Los Angeles, was present. More than 100 of the company's employees were in attendance.

Here Since 1916
J. C. Hayden has been with the Southern Counties Gas company here since 1916, when he started as a salesman under S. W. Todd, formerly executive here. He later was advanced to the position of chief clerk, under Todd, and, in 1919, was named district manager for the entire county.

Rutledge, the new manager here, has been in the public utility business since 1902. Starting with the Southern California Edison company, in Santa Monica, in that year, he has advanced steadily and in 1918 was sent to Santa Barbara,
Santa Barbara, he became district foreman.
On March 11, 1919, when the Southern Counties Gas company acquired the Santa Barbara properties, Rutledge was retained by the organization as district foreman.

On September 1, 1923, when Frank H. Bivens, now general agent for the utility, was transferred south, Rutledge was promoted to the position of district manager in the Santa Barbara territory. There he remained until the present time, when he again was advanced to the chief executive position for the Orange county district.

Rutledge won for himself and company wide recognition during the earthquake of June 29, last year. Immediately following the earthquake, gas service throughout Santa Barbara was discontinued.
His organization worked constantly for several days in order to restore gas service to the stricken city.

During the last several months, a considerable part of the Santa Barbara gas distribution system has been entirely rebuilt under Rutledge's personal direction.

Active in Civic Affairs
He has taken an active part in business and civic affairs in Santa Barbara. At the time of his advancement to this territory, he was a director of the Santa Barbara Rotary club, a director of the Santa Barbara Chamber of Commerce, past master of the Santa Barbara lodge, No. 192, F. and A. M., and has taken a keen interest in civic movements generally. Rutledge will move his family here as soon as he can locate and get his new duties under way.

Rutledge's position in Santa Barbara has been given to George W.
Smith, formerly of Santa Monica bay, who has been with the organization since 1917. The present motions emphasize the Southern Counties Gas company's policy of advancing its men from the ranks.

This was a policy laid down by President Ferdinand R. Bain, when the company was established, in 1911, practically all of the executives and heads of departments having served the company in minor capacities.

John Ott, formerly district superintendent in the Pomona territory, is named district superintendent under District Manager Rutledge and was transferred here at the request of the new executive, having worked several years under Rutledge's direction.

While rowing near the golf links of Killbuckville, Ind., recently, Mrs. M. McManis saw a four-foot pike in the rush, and after maneuvering the fish into shallow water, grasped and blinded it by putting her fingers into its eyes, then landed the 42 pound trophy.

So great was Japan's purchase of wheat in Melbourne this year that at one time 15 Japanese vessels were loading grain at the Melbourne docks.

MOTHER GAVE GOOD ADVICE

Told Florida Lady to Take Cardui When Suffering from General Weakness and She Found it a "Wonderful Help."

Mountstown, Fla.—"I first began taking Cardui because my mother told me to," says Mrs. J. W. Dawson, who resides near here. "She had taken it a number of years and it always benefited her." "Shortly after I was married, I suffered from general weakness. I was dizzy and nauseated. I had fainting spells and awful headaches. "My mother told me to try Cardui as it was the best tonic she knew of and found it a wonderful help. It seemed no time at all until I was able to be up and at my work with no bad feelings at all. From that time on, for seven years, I have used Cardui as a tonic whenever I get run-down. "Thousands of users of Cardui, on reading this, doubtless will recall that it was upon their own mother's advice that they began taking Cardui. For nearly fifty years, Cardui has been in use as a tonic with results which have steadily served to increase the demand for it, and, incidentally, to encourage the appearance on the market of certain preparations offered as substitutes. This long, "hand-down" use of Cardui testifies to the actual appreciation of it in thousands of families—a valuation which must be well deserved. Ask your druggist. He sells Cardui.

HAMMOND SEES NEW COLLEGE FOR SANTA ANA

A new junior college building in Santa Ana, located on a site separate from the high school, is foreseen by Principal D. K. Hammond. Plans already have been decided upon to meet the increase in enrollment expected in the next year. Changes have become necessary through the definite abandonment of the proposal for a merger of the Santa Ana and Fullerton junior college units into a central Orange county junior college, due to strong opposition in the Fullerton district. Under the new arrangement, the commercial building will be converted almost entirely into a junior college building. Large lecture rooms will be provided and individual offices built for the teachers. High school classes, except for commercial work, will be removed. To keep pace with the growth of the college, eight new courses have been added to next year's curriculum.

More Advanced Work The trend, according to Principal Hammond, is toward a wider range of subjects and more advanced departmental work for second year students.

"Until now, our courses in advanced science and commercial work, have been limited so that we could not supply the requirements for a complete two-year program. We now are able to remove that handicap," Hammond declared.

New commercial courses are introduction to geography and industrial history of Europe and America. The faculty staff for the commerce department is to be increased by the addition of another teacher. In the science field, second year physics is to be offered. Equipment, costing $1200, is to be purchased to meet the needs of the new course.

Other subjects added to the curriculum include botany, history of civilization, German and mathematical analysis. The Santa Ana junior college faculty is composed of 25 teachers. Catalogues of the courses offered by the junior college for 1926-1927 have been mailed to all seniors of the county high schools. Students intending to enroll here next fall are to be given the subject A English examination and intelligence test Saturday, June 5. This is the first year that an intelligence test has been required.

Saturday Morning Classes Among the innovations next year will be Saturday morning classes and evening sessions, when a special junior college reserve library book room, in the commercial building, will be open to students for study. Morning laboratory courses also are scheduled.

According to plans for the new junior college building, three large lecture rooms are to be equipped. Six teachers' private offices, together with a student body office, are contemplated.

BOARD TO CONSIDER BRIDGE PROJECT AID

Requested today by boosters for the harbor cut-off boulevard to provide an appropriation in the next year's budget for construction of a bridge across the Santa Ana river, near the Talbert bridge, the county supervisors promised to look over the ground and give their answer at next Tuesday's meeting.

The booster delegation presented a petition, signed by 1131 citizens, supporting their request. When Clerk J. M. Backs examined it for inspection, he found it was nearly as long as the road it favored.

Members of the board were unwilling to commit themselves to a decision with regard to the bridge until they could investigate the matter further. Supervisor S. H. Finley, of Santa Ana, stated that he would favor waiting until the time came to make up the budget and the board had before it more details regarding cost and the need of the bridge.

Supervisor Willard Smith remarked that it probably would be an expensive bridge, being planned to cross the river on a slant.

Finley suggested that the boulevard might be routed over the Talbert bridge, which is near the site of the proposed new bridge. Carl Spencer and other members of the delegation opposed this plan on the ground that it would be contrary to the policy behind the boulevard, which is to shorten distance as much as possible. Finley disagreed with them in the statement that it would add at least two miles to the route.

The bridge boosters dwelt with emphasis upon the need for the cut-off highway and the great benefits it would bring the county.

Road Paved With Broken Crockery

LONDON, May 25.—A road paved with broken china from London restaurants was one sight taken in by members of the American Association Sight Seers. They were told that millions of crushed cups, saucers, plates and other crockery broken in scenes of teacup shops were used. The road reminded some of the visitors of the highways between New Orleans and Pontchartrain, La., constructed of oyster shells.

Hawaii Boasts Heaviest Rains

WASHINGTON, May 25.—For half a century the world's record for rainfall has been held by Cherapunji in India, where an average of 426 inches of rain falls during the year, or better than an inch a day. However a new record spot is located now in Hawaii on the summit of Mount Waialeale, where in 1918 it rained 600 inches or nearly two inches every day. Two inches of rain is equivalent to 129,280 tons to the square mile.

San Diego Firm Submits Lowest Bid for Bridge

A bid of $94,045, made by De Waard and Sons, of San Diego, was the lowest offer received by the state highway commission for the contract to widen and enlarge the Chapman avenue bridge across the Santa Ana river, near the county hospital.

This was announced today from Sacramento. Award of the contract is scheduled to be made at the next meeting of the highway commission, in Sacramento, June 8. The engineering estimate on the contract was $102,817.

WOUNDED MAN MAKES ESCAPE FROM JAILER

Daniel Brenning, 27, prisoner in the county jail, who attempted to commit suicide Saturday afternoon by slashing his wrists with a safety razor blade, borrowed from a fellow prisoner, escaped from a room in the offices of Dr. J. M. Burlew yesterday afternoon, while waiting for a physician to dress his wounds, the sheriff's office announced today.

Brenning, in a weakened condition from loss of blood, was lying on a couch in the rear of Dr. Burlew's office when, finding the eyes from him, he darted out of a door, across another room and through a rear door.

Search River Bed Sheriff's officers searched throughout the night for the prisoner, beating bushes in the Santa Ana river bed and scouring the entire northern end of the county for him. Late today, however, no trace of him had been found.

At the time Brenning jumped up from the cot where he was lying, and escaped through a door on the opposite side of the building, Irvine was seated within a few feet of him where he could see the prisoner at all times. His attention was distracted for a minute when a nurse spoke to him, regarding the case, and Brenning, seizing the opportunity, dashed for freedom.

Brenning was in jail here on a charge of perjury, in connection with the obtaining of a marriage license in Orange county several weeks ago to marry Beatrice E. Simkins, 1223 East Sixty-eighth street, Los Angeles. Brenning lived at 960 West Forty-eighth street, jail records show. He is a baker by trade.

Swore Girl Was 19 The complaint against Brenning was filed by the girl's father, Frank Simkins, who alleged that Brenning swore that his daughter's age was 19 years at the time he secured the marriage license, when, in fact, she was only 15 years old.

Brenning already had been given his preliminary examination in justice court here and was awaiting trial in superior court.

Because of the fact that he is wounded and probably ill from the effects of his suicide attempt, Sheriff Jernigan believes that there is a good chance of finding him within the next 48 hours.

The search for the prisoner extended to Los Angeles last night. Officers throughout the Southland have been notified of the escape.

Board Will Act On Resignation Of Miss Murphy

Among resignations to be acted upon tonight at the regular school board meeting is that of Miss May E. Murphy, head of the English department of the junior college and high school. Miss Murphy will go to the Los Angeles city school system, where she has been offered an attractive position.

With the resignation of Miss Murphy, the Santa Ana school system loses one of its best teachers and her place will be hard to fill, City Superintendent Cranston declared today.

As head of the English department, she had supervision of the high school paper. She received her newspaper training from her father, a veteran newspaperman, who, prior to retiring from business, owned several papers in the middle west.

Miss Murphy received her M. A. degree from the University of Wisconsin, subsequently joining the faculty of that institution. For a number of years she was connected with the San Diego city schools, where she was principal of a junior high school.

Cooper was arrested by state officers after the automobile, which he is said to have been driving, crashed into a motorcycle operated by Ray Bradford, state officer.

RESOLUTION URGING PASSAGE OF HARBOR BONDS IS PASSED BY MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

The first of a series of "get acquainted" meetings, sponsored by the Ministerial Association of Orange County was held Monday, in Balboa. The visitors were entertained at a luncheon, served by the women of the Methodist and Catholic churches in the Methodist Episcopal church, after which the entire party was taken for a launch ride over Newport bay. George T. Peabody, of Newport Beach, pointed out the scenic wonders of the bay, and outlined the intended improvement and development work.

Many sections of Orange county were represented at the initial meeting and the opinion freely was expressed that those who were unable to attend missed an enjoyable outing. Before adjournment of the gathering, the members of the assembly present unanimously adopted the following resolution:

Believe in County "Resolved, that courage builds communities. We believe in Orange county, its homes, its churches, its children and its schools. We believe in its future, filled with promise of prosperity and progress. We believe in its splendid crops of golden fruit, its yield of oil and the great variety of other products of its fields, farms and orchards. We believe most of all, and over all, in its men and women of character and confidence and."

"Whereas, a death trap exists at the entrance to Newport bay, 14 human lives having been sacrificed at this point in one year through delay in carrying out plans to make it safe—safe for the hundreds of men who go down to the sea that one of our essential foods may not fall us—safe for our boys and girls and our neighbors' children, who come here to play—safe for the visitor, who, seeking shelter in our bay, falls into this death trap that we have permitted to exist at Orange county's door, and

"Whereas, we, as individuals, or as a county, are our brothers' keepers, here we can not only save that life, but in the very saving bring our county the one thing that will make possible the future growth and insure a livelihood for the children who are now growing up in our midst.

"Therefore, because of this we feel assured that on June 10, the great day for Orange county, the people will, without hesitation, vote 'yes' to build for Orange county a safe and useful harbor."

County Well Represented Among those who expressed themselves as thoroughly enjoying their visit were Dr. B. A. Brandon and daughter, Santa Ana; Dr. William E. Snider, pastor of the Advent Christian church, Tustin; Dr. Edgar, of the Reformed Presbyterian church, Santa Ana; the Rev. John H. Engle, pastor of the Methodist church in Yorba Linda; Dr.

H. G. Burgess, Methodist church, Santa Ana, and the Rev. E. M. Hutchins, Church of the Nazarene, Santa Ana, with his wife and son. Dr. J. C. Olson, of Costa Mesa, and the Rev. Bourke, of the Lady of Mount Carmel church, Newport Beach, allied in welcoming the visiting clergymen to Orange county harbor. The Rev. Eummelen, St. Joseph's church, Santa Ana, was one of the speakers.

The next meeting of the association will be held in the Y. M. C. A., in Santa Ana on May 31.

Noted Violinist Wins Highest Praise of Ebell Society

ER magic use of the bow, won Vera Barstow the unstinted praise of Ebell members and friends who yesterday heard the famous violinist in a remarkable program at the clubhouse auditorium. No less brilliant was the work of her accompanist, Miss Evelyn Kemp, whose technique was exemplified in a piano group as well as in the accompaniments for Miss Barstow's numbers.

The afternoon was interesting to the members in other points as well, notably the reading of the minutes in which the names of the club's new officers were introduced by reason of the fact that the secretary had been instructed to cast a ballot electing the new official family.

Mrs. S. W. Stanley was returned to the office of president, which she has held so capably and in an eminently satisfactory manner for the past year. With her will be associated Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks as first vice-president; Mrs. Clarence Gustlin, second vice-president; Mrs. W. W. Anderson, recording secretary; Miss Louise Tubbs, corresponding secretary; Mrs. N. A. Beals, treasurer; Mrs. Archie V. Herr, curator; Miss Lida Crookshank, Mrs. Oliver Halsey, Mrs. E. B. Sprague, Mrs. L. A. Chenoweth, Mrs. W. H. Harrison and Mrs. J. H. Metzgar, directors.

Very little business remained to be considered from the latest business session, thus leaving the afternoon free for the program, one unexcelled in the history of the society.

Vera Barstow, recognized as one of the 12 finest violinists in the United States, needed no introduction to her hearers, all of whom were acquainted with her fame and its basis of talent and proficiency. Both talent and technique were exemplified in her numbers, opening with a group featuring "Parade Musette" by Von Kunits and "Praeludium et Allegro Moderato" by Pugnani-Kreisler. This was followed by a Mendelssohn number of rare charm, the artist playing the Concerto in E Minor, Andante and Finale, with significance and strength.

The third group was piano alone, with Miss Kemp giving three extremely varied and delightful numbers which aroused the enthusiasm of the audience quite as much as had the previous numbers of Miss Barstow. "Spirits of the Glen" by Denec was the opening one of the trio which offered Chopin's "Fantasia Impromptu" and "Rondo Capriccioso" by Mendelssohn. Probably Miss Barstow's talents found their finest expression in the varied numbers of her two final groups, for after the strength and sonorous swing of the Mendelssohn Concerto, a marked contrast was offered by "Fairy Sailing" and "The Ghost Dance" by Cecil Burleigh, and even more pronouncedly by Gardner's "From the Case Drake" while the concluding number on the delightful program, "Gypsy Airs" by Sarasate, was one of the most enjoyable of all, with its vigor and dash combined with poetic charm. At the conclusion of the program, members gathered in little groups in the peacock room to recall the different and outstanding charms of the numbers, as they partook of tea and wafers served by the second travel section of the society under the direction of the section leader, Mrs. W. D. Baker.

Visitors in City Are Honored by Daughter On Anniversary

Mrs. Brown chose a white and gold color scheme to adorn her home, using many yellow blossoms very effectively. Guests were asked to spend the evening, and a program of games and music was offered as entertainment, music by the talented Hurd family being especially enjoyed. At a late hour Mrs. Brown served a two-course supper emphasizing her chosen color scheme. The menu included a handsome wedding cake in white and gold.

Many gifts were bestowed on Mr. and Mrs. Brown, happy bride and groom of fifty years ago. Enjoying the affair with the honored guests and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, were Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Hurd, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Applegate of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hassey of Costa Mesa, Miss Teresa Benent, Miss Elsie-Belle Hurd, Messrs. Beaudette, Nylin Hurd, Orville Hurd, Everett Hurd and young Lorin Brown Jr., small son of the home.

Swimming and beach sports were a part of the fun and story-telling around the campfire occupied the after-supper hour. A solemn note was sounded in the merriment when Miss McDonough spoke of the tie between the girls and its strength and resistance to change and separation. A pending separation was the reason for the beach party which was in the form of a farewell to Miss Julia Linsendard, soon to leave the office to become the bride of Henry Eggert of Los Angeles, and Miss Myrtle Begerow, who will soon return to her home in New York. The fact added a touch of regret to an otherwise flawless evening.

Section Announces Final Dancing Party

Judging from the ticket sale for tomorrow night's dance at Ebell club, the first current events section sponsoring the evening's pleasure, will conclude its series of dances with one that will surpass in popularity, all earlier events.

Mrs. John Estes Jr. chairman, and her committee composed of Mesdames Harvey Gardner, John Kettler and Floyd Spencer, have made many original plans for the evening, some of which will necessitate the use of silver ten-cent pieces. Hence the men are again reminded to have a supply of dimes in readiness to join in the fun.

The refinished floor of the peacock room, has made it one of the finest dancing floors in the city, according to those who have danced on it since the recent improvements were made. In fact, coupled with excellent music to be provided, a promised friendly hospitality and the many unique features planned for added entertainment, promise the well known "blaze of glory" as the conclusion for the section's entertaining.

Music Teachers

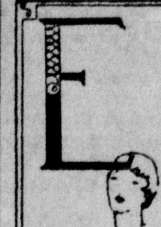

"Never have we heard so brilliant a piece of work," was the enthusiastic verdict of Orange county music teachers who last night were privileged to hear Olline Enlow Matthews and Cesar Franck Sonata as the program feature of the association's monthly meeting.

The three movements of the Sonata were played by the talented musicians, and the perfection of technique and musical understanding displayed, both delighted and inspired the other musicians present.

There was a certain amount of business to be consummated, chief interest being directed towards the Elateddoff next Saturday when members plan to attend the general luncheon to be held at noon at St. Ann's Inn for all musically interested folk in the county.

Beach Party Enjoyed By Young Women of Register Staff

ENGINEERED BY Miss Teresa McDonough, "dean of women" of the Register staff, was a happy beach party in which past and present feminine employees of the paper took an active part last night down on the peninsula at Balboa.

All work in office and editorial rooms was speeded through yesterday afternoon in order that all might get away shortly after 3 o'clock. Arrived at the beach, a series of races and contests were introduced by Miss Helena Lieberman who offered lollipops to both winners and losers of various events until all so inclined were enjoying the childhood favorites.

A roaring fire was built to the leeward of the rocks of the breakwater and there supper was enjoyed. The southern-cooked ham was so delicious that it won D. F. Cook, its "author," the enthusiastic vote of the entire group whenever he chooses to run for the presidency. It was accompanied by baked beans, salad, hot coffee and as a final course, generous wedges of fresh blackberry pie.

Swimming and beach sports were a part of the fun and story-telling around the campfire occupied the after-supper hour. A solemn note was sounded in the merriment when Miss McDonough spoke of the tie between the girls and its strength and resistance to change and separation. A pending separation was the reason for the beach party which was in the form of a farewell to Miss Julia Linsendard, soon to leave the office to become the bride of Henry Eggert of Los Angeles, and Miss Myrtle Begerow, who will soon return to her home in New York. The fact added a touch of regret to an otherwise flawless evening.

Moving down for the merriment were the Misses Teresa McDonough, Helena Lieberman, Myrtle Begerow, Julia Linsendard, Gertrude Kramer, Rhea McDow, Helen Lutz, Beatrice Reilly and Mesdames Edna Wurster Herrick, Cecyl Drake, Olive Lopez, Eleanor Elliott and little son Vincent, Marian Knight, Olive Ross, Rae Rowan Ballard, Josephine Lykke, Doris Cory, Jane Minihan, Olga Blakely Wright and Mabel Drake.

Vocal Teacher Opens Classes in Studio

Marie Bishop, announcing to her friends that she has severed her connections with the Santa Ana Conservatory of Music, will receive her voice pupils at her new location in the Spurgeon building where she will share the piano studio of Miss Nell Isaacson, in room 424.

Mrs. Bishop whose lovely voice is a joy to her friends and admirers, is director of the Ebell chorus which is doing such excellent work musically as a part of the club life of its members. She will receive pupils at her new studio, Wednesday and Saturday of each week.

vention was announced for early July in San Diego and Ione Tunison Peek selected to represent the association as delegate.

The association especially enjoys the monthly meetings in the Earl Fraser studio by reason of the beauty of the setting. Mr. Fraser has very recently added several handsome new pieces of furniture and Oriental rugs to his equipment, all of which came in for their share of admiration.

The structures in Manizales, Colombia, which have housed the business concerns that were driven from their permanent quarters by a fire last July, were destroyed recently in another blaze.

Judge Langley Gives Dinner Party for Granddaughter

HE pretty little private dining-room of the Cherry Blossom cafe was the place chosen by Judge E. T. Langley for dispensing a very pleasant hospitality recently when he entertained at a little dinner, complimenting his granddaughter, Mrs. Norbert Lentz, together with Mr. Lentz and their two youngsters, Marguerite and Donald.

The table was made very attractive for the affair, and a delicious dinner was served in courses. Judge Langley presided as host with that friendliness that endears him to everyone whether of his own older generation or those of his grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Covers were laid for the host, Judge Langley, and for Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Lentz, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Matson, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. McCausland, Mrs. S. M. Matson and Marguerite and Donald Lentz.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Church of the Messiah
An interesting dinner was the one given last night by members of the St. Elizabeth guild, of the Church of the Messiah. The affair was known as an "Associated Manufacturers' dinner" and was one of a series presented at various churches and organizations by the Manufacturers' association with the proceeds to go to some society. Every item of the menu was donated by the Associated Manufacturers who use this plan as a method for advertising.

During the dinner, which was served by members of the guild, Miss Mabel Krause entertained with a number of charming selections on the piano. Later, there was a short program when Herschel Clayton sang a group of Irish songs in his usual pleasing manner. Dressed as if they had just stepped into the present from "50 years ago" Miss Marie Pollock and Miss Florette

Miss Sweet Sixteen Is Surprised by School Friends

GROUP of merry school girls met last Friday evening at the J. D. Glasscock home, 816 West Third street, where they offered a happy surprise to Miss Thelma Glasscock, daughter of the home, who on that day, was celebrating her sixteenth birthday.

Invitations to the gay affair, had been issued at school by Miss Naomi West, a conspirator in the plans. These included enticing Miss Thelma to the home of a friend on a logical errand, which kept her from home while her schoolmates were gathering. After her return, the young people were served a delectable four-course dinner by their hostess, Mrs. Glasscock, assisted by Mrs. West.

The table provided a charming scene with May pole dancers in yellow and pink with which dainty colors, the flowers and gleaming candles harmonized. At the honoree's place were heaped many lovely gifts which were admired and enjoyed by all. The final course brought a pink and white birthday cake served with brick ice cream in the same colors.

Music and games were enjoyed during the evening together with happy congratulations from the young guests who included Agnes Steward, Helen and Irene O'Brien, Maxine Overton, Lucille Harrison, Mary Blakeman, Miriam Adamson, Naomi West, Catherine Walbridge, Janet Briggs and Josephine Ball.

Pollock, pretty daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pollock, sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" and "The Lilac Tree." Miss Marie Pollock wore a dress which was very much ruffled and chic indeed were the pantalettes which showed beneath her long skirts. Miss Florette was dressed as a boy of the early '70s.

The final numbers on the program were two readings by Mrs. Robert Horn which were very clever.

Do these branches look all the same degree of blackness with either eye at a distance of four feet?

Can I see the hands of a clock as easily when they are vertical (6 o'clock) as when horizontal (nine-fifteen)?

Have I headaches, nervous spells, drawn, tired eyes? Do type sometimes blur and dance? Do I see black spots before my eyes?

SOUTHWEST HELD CRADLE OF RACE

LOS ANGELES, May 23.—The Pacific southwest was the cradle of the human race, according to Alan Le Baron, noted archeologist.

Death valley, the Mojave, the Owens river country and parts of Nevada and Arizona all have traces indicating this territory evolved the first civilization. Le Baron told a gathering of scientists here in a discourse on "The Antiquity of Man."

"The story is unmistakably written in the rocks and hills, deserts and fossil beds of this region," said the archeologist.

"I have established beyond doubt that I have found in Nevada the forerunner and origin of the Chinese language. One migration of these first peoples left the southwest and migrated toward Alaska and across into Asia. The other went southward. These were the parents of a people more ancient than the cliff dwellers."

Le Baron holds the theory that the southwest is one of the oldest and most unchanged of areas. The growth of the Sierra Nevada caused the deserts, he contends, which in turn caused the primitive peoples to leave, and with them the animals whose ancestors' remains are often found in this area.

He points to the discoveries by scientists of the California camel and other prehistoric beasts as evidence that animal life had its most ancient origin here. Man was connected with the first development of animal life.

SHORTTRIDGE PLANS TOUR OF SOUTHLAND

Southern California, stronghold of what he regards as his two principal opponents for the Republican nomination for the senate, probably will be chosen by Senator Samuel M. Shortridge as the starting point of a speaking tour which will carry him through the state, according to information sent to Santa Ana from Washington by the junior California senator.

The senator plans to leave the national capital a few days after the adjournment of congress next month. It was said, going first to San Diego and Los Angeles, then on to Santa Barbara, where he has an invitation to speak at ceremonies incident to the formal opening of a new highway. It is not known whether he will speak in Santa Ana.

His program, still tentative, calls then for a jump to Oakland, for an address at the Flag day ceremonies of the Elks lodge; thence over to San Francisco for a conference with his campaign managers, previous to starting a tour of the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys, prior to his second invasion of the Southland.

Just how much of an issue the World court will prove to be in the California campaign, appears now to be highly problematical. Judge Clarke, formerly classed as a court supporter, has come out with the announcement that he is opposed to the tribunal. Representative Walter F. Lineberger, Long Beach, left Washington with the announcement that he would make his opposition to the court the main issue in his campaign, and no word has reached his office in Long Beach that he contemplates any change in that program.

Barmoids to Serve Near Beer at Fair

BERLIN, May 23.—About 150 huxom Bavarian barmoids, garbed in their picturesque Highland costumes and two Bavarian bands, accompanied by yodlers and dancers, are expected to be the only evidence at the Philadelphia World's fair, in 1927, that Germany is on the map.

Manufacturers having declined to send exhibits and the people are chagrined to learn that barmoids, wind instrument manipulators and peasant dancers may be sole representatives of German kultur.

It is argued that the antics of the Highlanders may give an erroneous picture of the German character and certainly provide hot ammunition for American cartoonists. The barmoids' friends are asking how they will be able to put pep into their work serving only near beer.

Section of Firestone Gum-Dipping Units With One Tower Cut Away to Show Interior

Here's Where Tire Economy Starts

One of the outstanding developments by Firestone Research Engineers is the process of dipping the cords in a rubber solution which impregnates and insulates every fiber of every cord with rubber. This adds strength to the cords and reduces to a minimum internal friction and heat so destructive to tire life.

The Gum-Dipping of the cords made it possible for Firestone to develop the Full-Size Balloon Tire which gave car owners not only comfort and safety but a definite dollars-and-cents saving in increased mileage.

In the battle of tires on race tracks—in the day-in and day-out service of the largest truck, bus and taxicab fleets—on the cars of hundreds of thousands of motorists everywhere—Gum-Dipping has demonstrated its supremacy in greater economy, safety and comfort.

Do not deny yourself these advantages. Equip with Firestone Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons. They are built as only Firestone can build them, and will perform as only Gum-Dipped Tires can perform. See the nearest Firestone Dealer.

WHAT COUNCIL DID PLANS SOUGHT ON PAVING OF FRUIT STREET

"Better late than never" thought the city fathers last night, when, acting on a petition filed in July, 1923, they directed the city engineer to bring in plans and specifications for the paving of Fruit street between Garfield and Grant streets with type of pavement as set forth in the petition.

At the same time, a resolution adopted at the last regular council meeting, suggesting the circulating of a new petition on the project, was rescinded.

It was brought out that, since the filing of the petition in 1923, there has developed a difference of opinion among the property owners as to type of pavement to be used, some preferring concrete, while others hold out for asphalt.

Student Writing Put On Display

In 12 of the prominent business houses of Santa Ana, one may see splendid displays of handwriting this week.

The school children of Santa Ana are presenting these specimens of their work.

They wish it to be shown that the writing shown is typical of the daily work done in the schools and is in no way "show work."

The aim of the exhibits is to show the progress of the children in writing, as they go from first grades on up through junior high school.

Miss Olive M. Wherry supervisor of writing, is ever on the alert to see that writing is being carried over into the other subjects, such as language, history, project work, etc.

Boy of 15 Wants To Be Dry Sleuth

SACRAMENTO, May 25.—Angered because of what he termed "widespread violations of the prohibition laws," Vance Rapp, 15 years old, Boy Scout, of Turlock, has asked Gov. Friend W. Richardson to appoint him as a special prohibition enforcement officer.

"I would like to know," the youth wrote Governor Richardson, "if a boy 15 could get a job as state prohibition detective. There are many of my friends that get all of the liquor that they want and I could go with them and locate the stills and bootleg places. I would like to have direct or indirect power of arrest."

Street Sweeper And Trucks Are To Be Purchased

On recommendation of Stanley B. Goode, councilman and street commissioner, the city trustees last night directed the city clerk to advertise for new street-cleaning equipment, to include one street sweeper, two 2-1/2 ton trucks, and two 1-ton trucks, at a cost not to exceed $16,000.

At the suggestion of Goode, it was directed that the specifications for this new equipment be drawn so as to avoid the description of any particular type or make, and liberal enough to allow all dealers to submit bids.

According to Goode the old equipment is beginning to wear out and is insufficient to handle the work demanded from the street department.

NEW SERVICE. STATION GETS COUNCIL O. K.

Action on various applications for establishment of service stations, installation of gasoline tanks, hanging electric signs, moving houses, featured the routine of the city council meeting, held last night at the city hall.

The Santa Ana Art Glass works was granted permission to install an underground 250-gallon gasoline tank and a standard pump at the company's place of business, 1204-1210 East Fourth street. The installation is to be made under supervision of the fire chief. The application states that gasoline stored in the tank will be used for autos and trucks operated by the firm.

A permit was granted Dr. Johnston, of Anaheim, owner of the lot, to establish a modern service station on the southwest corner of South Main street and Edinger street, to be erected under supervision of the fire chief.

The Robertson Electric company was authorized to hang a horizontal electric sign for the Owl cafe, 421 West Fourth street.

The council adjourned to Tuesday evening, June 1, when unfinished business will be acted upon.

FILM BAD BREAK IN NEWPORT JETTY

NEWPORT BEACH, May 25.—Early risers at Balboa were treated to an unexpected thrill this morning, when the launch "Balboa," with a motion picture camera lashed to its bow and manned by a trio of Orange county harbor boosters, braved the tide in an effort to film a bad break in the west jetty. Seas racing through the 500-foot gap broke over the camera and operator, constantly threatening the safety of the launch and its occupants. Gerald Gage, dean of the bay boatmen, added another laurel to his crown, according to observers, by accomplishing a feat of seamanship believed by harbor men to be an impossibility.

It was at this point that two lives were lost last year. Since then, the government weather bureau station has flown danger signals all times when the harbor entrance was unsafe. A boatman unacquainted with the harbor comes upon the break without warning and has no opportunity to head into the cross seas, but must take the full force of these broadside. Part of the proposed $1,500,000 bond issue to be voted on in Orange county June 10 is to be used to repair this dangerous break in the jetty and to build a parallel jetty which will provide safe entrance to all types of vessels under any weather condition.

Filming the pounding surf, which will be screened as an educational feature of Orange county's harbor development campaign, was pronounced a huge success by George Peabody, of Newport Beach, sponsor of the plans. J. J. Wilson, motion picture camera man, was not so enthusiastic.

"I hope it's good," he muttered, as he sloshed up the boat ramp, "because there won't be any more. See that moisture on my forehead? Some of it is Pacific ocean, but most of it is cold, clammy sweat. Never again!"

Hold Services For J. F. Johnson

FULLERTON, May 25.—Funeral services were conducted this afternoon for Dr. John F. Johnson, who passed away at his home at 211 West Malvern avenue Sunday evening. The funeral was held at the home, with J. E. Seale in charge of arrangements.

Dr. Johnson was a leading physician in Fullerton, Nebraska, for many years and was the oldest member of the Masonic lodge in that city. He came to Fullerton about four years ago. Many of his friends from his former home who are now living in Fullerton and in Southern California were at the funeral, as were members of Malvern Hill post, G. A. R.

Those who mourn his death are his widow, Mrs. Susie Johnson and a brother-in-law, O. M. Thompson, of North Spadra, Fullerton.

ADOPT RABBIT ORDINANCE AT COUNCIL MEET

Three measures designed to protect the public health—one relating to inspection of rabbit farms, the other providing for immunization against rabies, and the third proposing health inspection of barber shops and beauty parlors—were considered last night at a special meeting of the city council.

Following the second and third readings of the so-called "rabbit ordinance," it was adopted by the city fathers. It supplements a city ordinance relating to the keeping of livestock on residence premises. The new ordinance, as enacted, makes it unlawful for any person or persons to keep or maintain any hens, ducks, geese, or other domestic fowls or rabbits, or any kind of tame animals, except cats, dogs and canary birds, within 25 feet of any family residence. Rabbits must be kept in hutches approved by the health department. No box hutches will be permitted.

Urges Rabies Vaccination
A proposed ordinance against rabies, providing for the compulsory vaccination of all licensed dogs, was urged by Dr. V. G. Presson, county health officer, who also holds the office of city health officer for Santa Ana. Dr. Presson reported that the number of cases of rabies in the county is rapidly increasing, a circumstance which compels the adoption of protective measures, he opined.

In this connection, he suggested that the city of Santa Ana adopt an ordinance similar to that now in force in San Diego. Under such an ordinance, all owners of licensed dogs would be required to have their pets immunized against rabies. All stray dogs would be picked up and done away with in a humane manner. Discussion brought out that the city of Santa Ana has a dog ordinance covering the premises, and the city attorney was directed to check up the provisions of this ordinance before any new legislation is enacted.

Too Much Regulation
"There can be such a thing as too much regulating of people's affairs by law," declared Dr. Presson, voicing opposition to a proposed measure whereby all barber shops and beauty parlors would be placed under health inspection, including physical examination of operators employed in such places.

According to Dr. Presson, the police powers given the state should not be abused to molest or annoy persons engaged in business, but should be exercised with the utmost care and discretion to avoid official interference with the life of citizens. He further thought that the state laws relating to sanitation were quite sufficient to handle any cases that might come up. He also observed that any arguments that may be advanced for health inspection of barber shops and beauty parlors may apply with equal force to food handlers, including markets, stores and all eating places.

Bootleggers Not Required to Keep Income Tax Data

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Bootleggers cannot be required to keep records of their liquor sales for federal inspection, the U. S. supreme court has ruled. DATE FOR ANNUAL CHEST MEET SET

At a meeting of directors of the Santa Ana Community Chest this morning, the annual meeting of the organization was set for 7:30 p. m., Monday, June 7. The meeting is to be held in the Boy Scout headquarters on North Sycamore street. The public in general is to be invited to attend the meeting. Under the corporation rules of the Community Chest, the directors of each of the co-operating organizations are to be given specific invitations to attend. Each co-operating organization is to nominate its representative on the directorate of the chest. Three directors at large will be nominated from the floor at the annual meeting. JUNIOR DIVISION ASKED TO JOIN ENSENADA TRIP

An invitation has been received by the junior division of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce to send delegates on the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce jaunt to Ensenada, Mexico, May 27 to 30, according to Ridley Smith, secretary of the junior division, who received the highly colored parchment extending the bid to have the Santa Anans present.

The steamship Ruth Alexander has been chartered for the event. The trip will start at 10 o'clock Thursday night, the steamer leaving the Pacific Coast Steamship dock, Wilmington. The party will arrive home Sunday morning.

Arrangements for high class entertainment in Ensenada have been completed by the Club International of Ensenada, whose officers hope the Ensenada section will become the North American Riviera. At the Spanish barbecue, Friday night, there will be Mexican music, Mexican dancers, Mexican food and all those appurtenances which usually go with a celebration of this sort, according to the invitation received by Smith.

The officers of the Los Angeles junior chamber hope that 25 members of the Santa Ana organization will make the journey, the round trip costing $28, including meals, berth and transportation.

The California Yacht club will hold its regatta in Ensenada while the junior chamber members are there. Any Santa Ana junior chamber members or their friends, who wish to make the trip, may secure further information from Smith.

Thirty-seven countries were represented in the 3000 exhibits at the recent spring fair at Lyon, France, and so great was the demand for goods that many exhibitors closed their order books ahead of time with their production capacity booked for months ahead.

Support of City's Musical Organizations Urged by Rev. Betts from Pulpit

POINTS OUT VALUE OF ORGANIZATIONS

Says Santa Ana Should Be Proud of Talented Director and His Players

"I sincerely hope that the citizenship of Santa Ana will rise to a proper appreciation of what the Santa Ana Municipal band and the Santa Ana Symphony orchestra mean to us, and by a most decided vote carry the proposed ordinance, carrying a tax levy for the support of the band."

The Rev. Will A. Betts, pastor of the First Methodist church, today gave an expression to the quoted paragraph in evidence of his appreciation of Santa Ana's high class musical organizations.

In fact, the minister is so enthusiastic and so sincere in his support of the institution that he violated a regulation of the pulpit and on Sunday evening made an urgent appeal to his congregation to get behind the tax levy proposition and put it over. He made the appeal during the intermission in the sacred program, given by the orchestra.

Today, the pastor pointed out the value to the community of the maintenance of a band of the strength and standing of the local organization under the direction of D. C. Clanton.

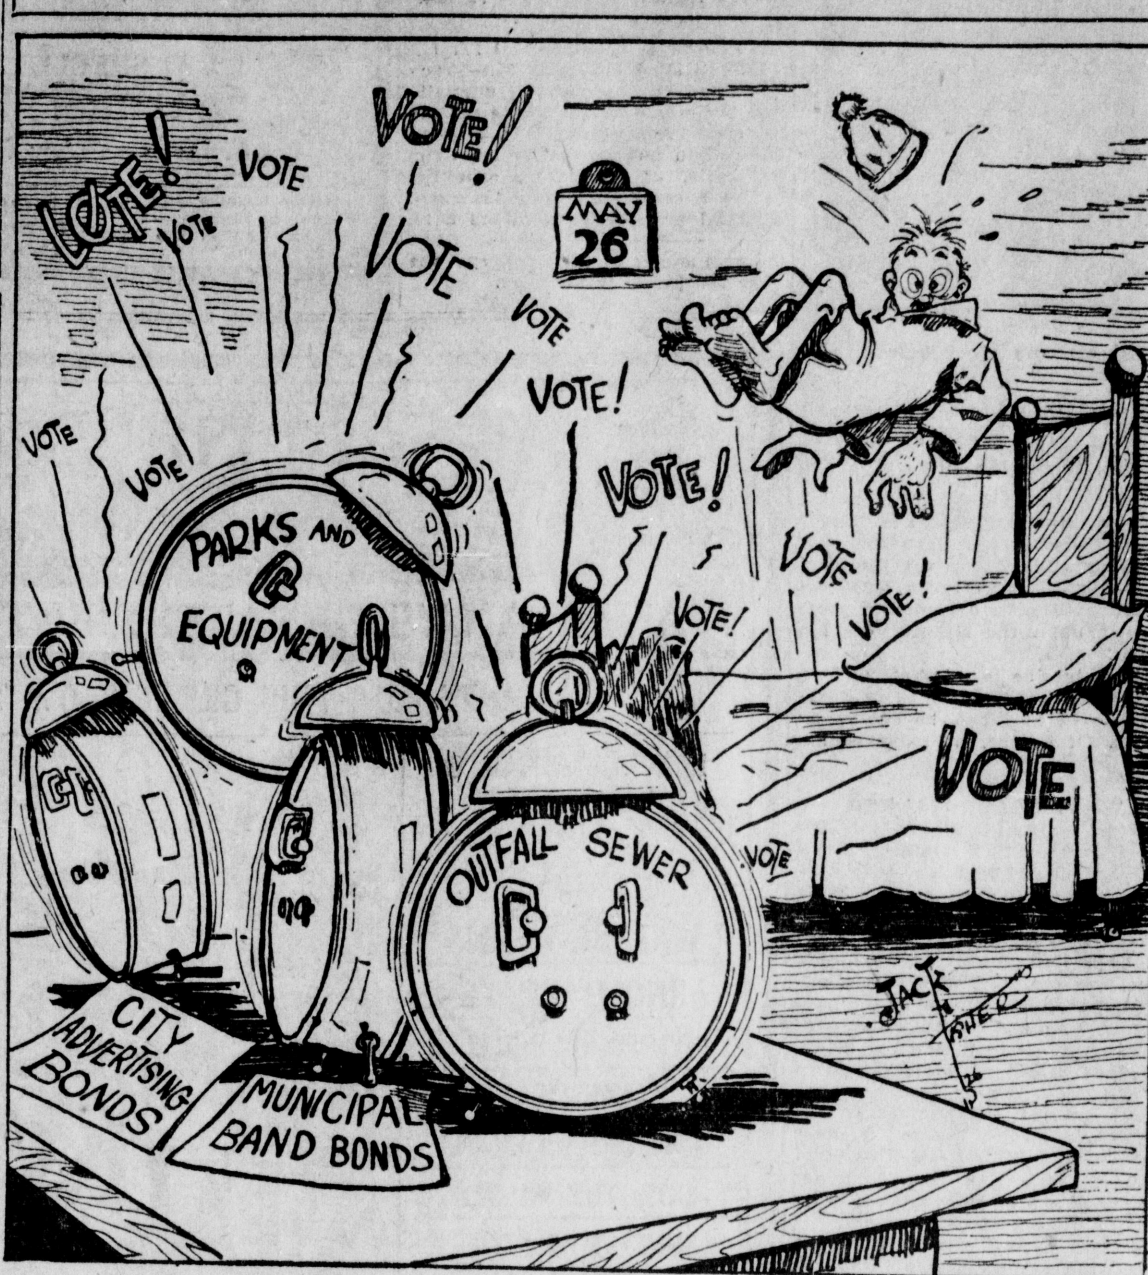

In his brief address, during the intermission in the concert program, the Rev. Mr. Betts said: "The Christian era was ushered in midst the cadence of beautiful music, rendered by the heavenly choir above the plains of Judea. When the climax of Jesus' ministry was at hand, He met with his disciples for a little while, and then, the Word says, and when they had sung an hymn, they went out into the Mount of Olives."

"Since that hour, Christian worship has been closely allied to music and there is no need of apology for having in this hour of worship tonight, Professor Clanton and his orchestra. The charming renditions they have brought to us have been inspiring, uplifting and helpful. It would seem that the good God has chosen to use music as a medium by which he can speak to the human heart and impart his message of love and good will."

"Santa Ana ought to be proud of Professor Clanton and his splendid group of young folks who comprise the personnel of this orchestra and the municipal band. It is said that a minister ought to keep out of politics. However, I am willing to risk telling you how you ought to vote, a few days hence, on a proposition to provide for the maintenance of such an aggregation of fine musicians as have led us in our worship tonight. I would like to appeal to every individual in this congregation to vote 'yes' on the proposed ordinance number 794."

HEAD SPANISH WAR VETERANS TO VISIT COAST

Awaited with more than ordinary interest in Spanish war veteran circles throughout the country is the coming visit to the Pacific coast of Col. Carmel A. Thompson, commander-in-chief of the United Spanish War Veterans, who, enroute to the Philippines, will make a 36-hour stop in Los Angeles.

His itinerary from Cleveland to Seattle, from which port he will depart for Manila, according to advices, includes stops in Chicago, Denver, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Portland. At each of these cities, the veterans are planning monster receptions, which not only will include local members but members from all nearby cities and towns.

Colonel Thompson will leave Denver Saturday, June 5, at 1:30 p. m., for Los Angeles, arriving in the latter city at 8:45 a. m., Monday, June 7. His departure from Los Angeles has been set for 8 p. m., Tuesday, June 8.

Colonel Thompson is leaving for the Philippines on a special mission as the personal representative of President Coolidge to investigate conditions in the archipelago and report his findings next fall.

The enactment of the new pension bill, granting Spanish war veterans an increase in pensions, was due in no small measure to his untiring efforts in Washington, which explains his popularity among veterans.

YOUNG CRITICIZES GOVERNOR RICHARDSON FOR FAILURE TO LEND SUPPORT IN DAM FIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Vigorously pillorying Governor Richardson and his administration for failure to give adequate support to California's fight for the Boulder dam, Lt. Gov. C. C. Young last night wired Congressman Phil D. Swing, in Washington, pledging his efforts, if he is elected governor, to the great cause of the Southwest.

"As a candidate for governor," said Lieutenant Governor Young, "I have in the past studiously refrained from careless making of pre-election pledges. One pledge, however, I believe the people of California have a right to exact at this crisis, and this pledge I do make:

"That if elected to this high office I shall exert at all times and in all places every effort of which I am capable toward securing this all-important legislation, both in Washington and in Sacramento."

In his telegram to Representative Swing, Lieutenant Governor Young states:

"It seems a tragedy that the persistent undermining of this splendid legislation on the part of private power interests and special land interests should have finally encompassed its temporary defeat—that not even the active aid of the federal administration was able to pull it through."

"One cannot help wondering whether aid on the part of our own state administration would have been sufficient to have produced the difference between defeat and victory. If those who have been battling for this measure are correct in their view, such support would have been of great value, but has been altogether conspicuous by its absence."

"We especially want to take voters to the polls who will vote 'yes' on all the issues, the women said."

CREAMERY BURNS.
MADERA, Calif., May 25.—Fire, believed to have started by hoboes, destroyed the Madera creamery, according to the owner, is about $5000, partly covered by insurance.

Must Not Reoccur

"This situation must not again occur. The same legislation for a Boulder canyon dam and all-American canal must again be enacted."

CITY BOOSTING IS IMPOSSIBLE
WITHOUT FUNDS

Need of Voters Approving Advertising Proposition Told by Chamber Chief

The Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce is without funds sufficient to publish pamphlets to meet the demands of eastern residents seeking information about Santa Ana, according to public declarations by George Raymer, secretary.

The organization is handicapped in other ways by lack of funds for effective operation, the secretary has stated.

The secretary pointed out that approval, tomorrow, by voters, of Ordinance 794, proposing a tax levy of 5 cents on the $100 assessed valuation, would provide funds for proper advertising of the city and would make possible a recurrence of the situation in which the chamber finds itself at this time.

"Every property owner in the city profits by the work of the chamber and a tax levy is the most equitable way of distributing the costs of maintaining the chamber," the secretary said.

"Advertising is just as necessary for a city today as it is for a merchant. Other communities in the Southland are providing their chambers with money with which to put on good advertising campaigns and Santa Ana will slip backward if the city does not 'blow its own horn' loud and often."

"The chamber of commerce is medium for promotion work. Should the tax levy be voted, the city council will have control of the money and may apportion all or a portion of the total sum received to the chamber. The city council frequently has demands for appropriations to assist in legitimate advertising proposals and it should be in position to help worthy projects whenever it can."

"A favorable vote for the ordinance will be a forward step voters never will regret."

BAND BOOSTERS TO STAGE BIG STREET PARADE

Mason Yould, president of the junior division of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, today made an urgent appeal for boosters for the bond and tax levy propositions, to be voted on tomorrow, to meet in front of the Hill and Son hardware store, 213 East Fourth street, at 6:30 tonight to participate in the automobile parade, arranged to precede the band concert in Birch park, at 7 p. m.

The band will head the parade, two trucks having been procured today by D. C. Clanton, director of the musical organization. It is the desire of the division president and boosters to have as many cars in line as possible. Plans for the parade were developed late yesterday afternoon and because of this there has not been time to organize the procession on a big scale.

The program at the park tonight may be the last program by the musical organization, for it has been declared by the musicians that they will not continue their practice work and their organization unless support is given through the tax levy plan.

Women of City Ready to Meet Crisis

The following is the "ave-of-election" statement of Mrs. J. M. Burlew, president of the high school Parent-Teacher association:

"This special election means more to the mothers of the city than to any others. We want the women, especially the members of the Parent-Teacher association, to go to the polls in such numbers that the credit for the success of the election can rightfully be given them."

"If this issue fails, the blame should be placed where it belongs."

"We have every hope and faith that the election will be a success in every respect."

"Wednesday will see a crisis in the history of Santa Ana. I know the women of the city are ready to meet it with their ballots."

G. O. P. CLUB IS ORGANIZED BY
S. A. YOUNG MEN

Initial steps toward the organization of a young men's Republican club, to be known as the "Young Republicans of Orange County," were taken yesterday, when a small band of young men met in a private dining room in Ketter's cafe and discussed plans for the organization.

The purpose of the club would be to further the cause of the Republican party at all times and to do everything possible to see that the Republican voters visited the polls on election days.

Membership in the organization would be drawn from all parts of the county, with each town in the county having a voice in the actions of the club. That 200 members could be drawn from Santa Ana and as many from Anaheim, Fullerton and probably other cities in the county, was the belief expressed by those present.

Although nothing was done regarding the picking of leaders at yesterday's meeting, it was decided to write letters to prominent Republicans throughout the county, inviting them to attend a huge mass meeting, to be held at St. Ann's Inn on the night of June 1, at which time the club formally will be launched.

The new club will do all in its power to keep the Republican party in the minds of the people at all times, especially in state and national elections, but it was decided that little or no interest would be shown by the club, as a whole, in county elections.

The meeting at St. Ann's Inn will see delegates from Anaheim, Fullerton, Garden Grove, Orange, Tustin, Laguna Beach, Huntington Beach, Newport Beach, Brea, La Habra, Placentia and other cities present.

Those present at the initial meeting yesterday were: Mason Yould, G. K. Scovel, Earl Abbey, Z. B. West Jr., Jack C. Wallace, Franklin West, Stanley Goode and A. B. Berry.

ASSOCIATION WILL HAVE NEW LAWYER

R. Earl Ruddy, secretary-manager of the Business Men's association, announced today that S. B. Kaufman, Santa Ana lawyer, who has been the association's attorney for nearly four years, is being retained in an advisory capacity, but that his private practice has grown to such an extent that he is unable to devote sufficient time to the collection department of the association. He also said that Attorney Harry C. Westover, appointed to take charge of the collection department, will, in addition to his work with the association, engage in private practice.

Two Tax Levy Propositions for Band Support and Advertising Fund, Come Under One Head

POLLS WILL CLOSE AT 7 P. M.

ONLY registered voters can cast ballots at the special election tomorrow, according to Ed Vegely, city clerk. There is no way by which a voter may be sworn in by freeholders, as is the case in ordinary general elections.

The polls will open at 6 a. m., and close at 7 p. m. The city has been divided into 12 special voting precincts, each precinct representing a combination of the regular county precincts.

The total registration for the election was 9953.

A two-thirds majority of the vote cast is required for passage of the propositions calling for bond issues. One of these has to do with financing the outfall sewer, at a cost of $182,000, the other has to do with providing funds for the purchase of park sites and equipment, at a cost of $250,000.

A straight majority only is required for the passage of the other two propositions on the ballot, which have been combined under one head, under city ordinance No. 794.

Passage of this proposition will mean that a tax of six cents on each $100 in assessed valuation will be levied for each of the two funds, that is to say, six cents for band and six cents for advertising, a total of 12 cents.

There is no way by which a vote may be cast for the band fund and against the advertising fund. They both must be approved or disapproved.

The special voting precincts have been listed as follows:

Number 1—Includes county precincts 8, 9, 10, 11; polling place, Lincoln school, French street.

Number 2—Includes county precincts 12, 13, 14, 15; polling place, Mrs. McGee's place, corner Fruit and Minter streets.

Number 3—Includes county precincts 1, 2, 3, 4; polling place, Frances Willard junior high school, North Main street.

Number 4—Includes county precincts 1, 17, 21, 24, 26; polling place, city hall, Third and Main streets.

Number 5—Includes county precincts 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 25; polling place, Roosevelt school, East First street.

Number 6—Includes county precincts 27, 28, 29, 30, 35, 36; polling place, polytechnic high school, corner Ross and Walnut streets.

Number 7—Includes county precincts 31, 32, 33, 34, 37; polling place, McKinley school, West Third street.

Number 8—Includes county precincts 28, 39; polling place, Franklin school, West Fourth street.

Number 9—Includes county precincts 42, 43, 44; polling place on Rose street, near Eighth street, old house.

Number 10—Includes county precincts 40, 41, 47; polling place, F. D. Drake's garage, 1059 West Sixth street.

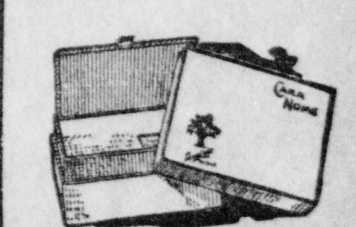

Number 11—Includes county precincts 45, 46, 48, 49; polling place, Jefferson school, West Seventeenth street.

Number 12—Includes county precincts 5, 6, 7, 50; polling place, Spurgeon school, Cubbon street.

AT THE AGE OF 83

"Purges" and "Physics" Bad for Old Folks

While Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, knew that chastity was the curse of advancing age, he did not believe that a "purge" or "physic" every little while was necessary.

To him, it seemed cruel that so many constipated old people had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to "regulate" the bowels of the old folks. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement, but each dose helps to strengthen the bowel muscles, shortly establishing natural "regularity." It never gripes, sickens, or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.

If past fifty, buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine and just see for yourself.

Paris Is Treated To Cold Weather

PARIS, May 25.—As if the steadily falling temperature was not sufficient to life's discomfort, France is being aggravated by what apparently is a permanently fallen thermometer. About 50 degrees Fahrenheit seems the highest the mercury can reach in the daytime and 40 at night.

And there is freezing weather on anything like high ground. The coal and wood dealers alone are satisfied with this condition.

The month's cold spell has shaken French faith in one of the strongest popular traditions by continuing after thaw warning of the "Lune Rousse." This is the Red-Brown Moon. After Easter it is credited with turning young vegetation a rusty color. No Frenchman, educated or uneducated, expects fine weather until its reign is over. Its departure this year, however, failed to bring the confidently expected change.

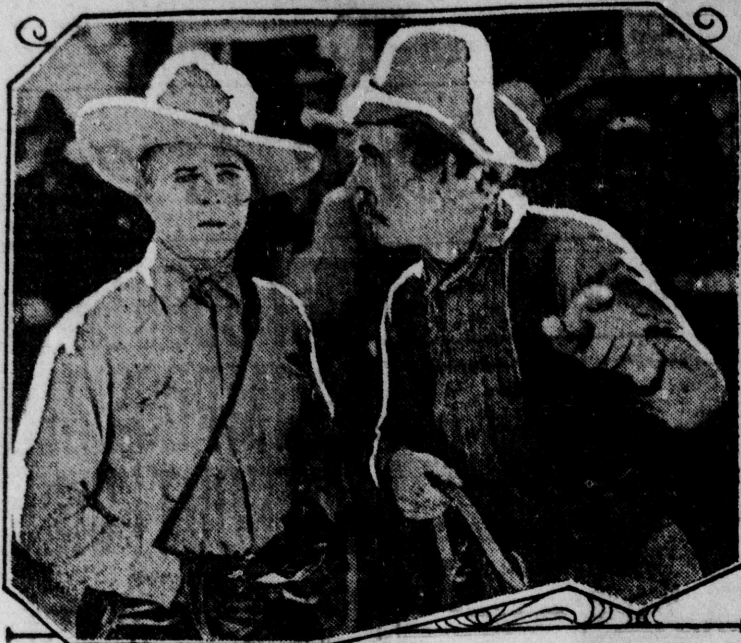

Statue Erected To Robespierre

PARIS, May 25.—Robespierre, whom Carlyle called the "Sea Green Incorruptible," has waited a long time for his official monument in the city that was bathed in blood during the French Revolution, and the movement has now been started and the statue has actually been completed. The outstanding, enigmatic figure of the man of the terror has many admirers in Republican France, who have formed a group known as the "Comite du Monument Robespierre." The statue, now on view at the Salon, is at the work of the sculptor Marius Cladel, inspired by a sketch drawn by the painter Gearard.

Stage and Screen

WEST END THEATER

Anne Cornwall, who plays the leading feminine role in "Under Western Skies," picture now at the West End theater, is a splendid example of the modern, self-reliant young woman. She can drive a high-powered motor car with all the skill of a racing driver and is as much at home in the saddle as she is behind the wheel. She is an excellent swimmer and a good golfer and tennis player, but in addition to all this she is an expert shot.

Her love of sports was well known to all the members of the company who were engaged in making "Under Western Skies," but none were aware of her skill with firearms. This was only revealed during the stay of the company at Pendleton, Ore., where most of the picture was filmed.

YOST THEATER

Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Poe, Gaboriau, Leroux, all have their niche in the mystery and detective story Hall of Fame. The followers of this kind of yarn are legion. There seems to be a fascination about pitting one's wits against the author and trying to solve the problem.

Oscar Friend is one of the newest writers to enter this field. However, instead of mansions and cafes or Scotland Yard or police stations, he has selected for his field of action the great plains and cattle lands of the American West.

His greatest story, "Click of the Triangle T," has been filmed and is being featured now at the Yost theater, under the title of "The Phantom Bullet."

The star in this picture is "Hoot" Gibson, celebrated delineator of Western roles. He plays the part of a cowboy who turns detective in order to seek out and avenge himself upon the slayers of his father.

His only clue is a bullet and a discharged shell. With these slender bits of evidence, he combats the plains. Of course, he achieves his aim.

WEST COAST-WALKER

"The Vanity Idea," one of the liveliest and most entertaining of all the West Coast-Walker presentations, closes tonight at the West Coast-Walker theater here.

Walter Weems and Arnold Grazer, both well known on the big time, are featured with this show. Weems is the originator of the particular type of entertainment in which a story is told with interludes of music giving atmosphere to the story. Grazer does a sensational military toe number.

Victoria Regal, Elaine Tichner and Dorothy Gilbert are other featured players and the "Sunkist Beauties" are to be seen in a "Little Red Riding Hood" number.

"Money Talks," a picture featuring Owen Moore, Claire Windsor and Bert Roach, is the screen offering. This is an amusing farce, well played.

ing and Howard Bould was heard in a piano solo.

There were about 60 guests at the banquet and more than 30 of the parents arrived in time for the program.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Arnett and children and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Hodge, of Gardena, enjoyed a trip to Visalia Saturday. They returned late Sunday evening, bringing with them, Mrs. Burton Swanson, Mrs. Arnett's mother, for a short stay in the Arnett home.

Mrs. W. B. McCoy was hostess Friday afternoon, when her co-workers in the Happy Workers organization were guests in her home on Westminster avenue. Some time was spent in planning for the Wednesday meeting, at which they will serve, after which Mrs. McCoy served ice cream and cake. Those present were Mrs. Rueben Edward, Mrs. H. Melvin, Mrs. Luther Rix, Mrs. H. O. Chamberlain, Mrs. Loyal Skinner and Mrs. I. W. Bould and son, Robert.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Chamberlain and friends, Mr. and Mrs. C. Collins, of Long Beach, have returned from a trip to San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Penhall, of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGuire, and Paul Whitcomb enjoyed a trip over the week-end to San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Clough returned Saturday night from a several days' stay at Glen Ivy. The Cloughs, with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mangus, had a good time Sunday fishing and picnicking together at Huntington Beach. Mr. Clough resumed his duties as manager of the San Pedro Lumber company Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Page and Smiles Baker enjoyed Sunday in Trabuco canyon.

HAVE YOU TROUTITIS? WE CURE IT

It is a disease no one ever wants to get rid of—starts with an itch to get hold of a rod, and doesn't quit, generally, until the old reel is filled to capacity. Temporary relief may be had at THE RAINBOW ANGLING CLUB, where the streams are fairly teeming with the best antidote for "troutitis" we know of—gamey, speckled beauties of the most appetizing size. Spring fever and troutitis go hand in hand, and the best thing to do when they get into your system is to hit right up here to the club. Entrance and usual yearly fishing fee until July 1, 1926, $20. After July 1st, entrance fee will be $30, plus usual yearly fishing fee, $20. Memberships transferable after July 1st. BUSINESS MEN TO JOIN IN CRUSADE

SEATTLE, May 25.—A "committee of 100" business and professional men, organized for a crusade for prohibition and public morals, is bringing influence in support of public officials seeking honest and strict law enforcement.

The recent indictment of 175 persons by a federal grand jury, most of them on liquor charges, and among them a police official, Capt. E. L. Hedges, strengthened the conviction of this organization that its efforts were needed.

The primary purpose of the committee is to combat sentiment and propaganda favoring amendment of liquor laws.

The movement was launched by civic leaders, encouraged by Public Prosecutor E. C. Colvin, who said the local situation urgently requires an organization that represents public opinion on the side of law enforcement.

The Rev. Clarence Thwing, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church, originated the plan, which is modeled somewhat after the New York committee of 100.

YOUNG SCORES RICHARDSON IN FIGHT FOR DAM

pushed before the next session of congress, and it must this time be backed by every ounce of strength which our state government can possibly exert. No longer should congressional committees be permitted to doubt the extent of California's official interest in this project.

"Coincident with federal enactment, the Boulder dam legislation must also come the equally important state enactment of the metropolitan water district bill—a measure passed by the last state senate, but slaughtered by the administration forces of the assembly. This bill, so absolutely essential to the economic welfare of all Southern California, must be enacted without fail to our next legislative session."

In a recent address in Imperial valley, Young said: "Having labored courageously under great handicaps, you people of the Imperial valley have at last won over the president of the United States and members of his cabinet to championship of the great Colorado river project.

"But you have not had the co-operation of the governor of California. On all critical occasions other states of the basin have been officially represented, either by the governors or other state officials authorized to speak for the state. There has been no question where those states stood.

"But California has had no representative, in Washington or elsewhere, except on one occasion, when the governor sent the state engineer to a conference. The engineer is an estimable gentleman, but he went away from the meeting in question and published his impressions in a pamphlet, which was distributed in Washington and did your cause harm."

Capital Letter

WASHINGTON, May 25.—What is wrong with the government? "Congress," answered Congressman Elmer Thomas, of Oklahoma.

Then while thousands of critical fellow-citizens are agreeing with him, he puts the reverse English on his diagnosis by objecting that there is too little congress in the government rather than too much. He believes that congress, as the people's own chosen right arm, is the hope of the nation.

"But congress is the greatest buck-passing institution on earth," says Thomas.

"When there is hard work or a new problem ahead, does congress tackle the job itself? Certainly not. It creates a bureau or board or commission and delegates to it some of its own vital authority. The present session promises to add half a dozen bureaus. We are getting a government by bureaus instead of by the people."

Thomas' conversation in truth and in fact is more than just a western congressman attracting attention to himself. It is the conviction of one who has taken part actively in public life ever since he made speeches, as a 19-year-old schoolboy, in the free silver campaign of '96. He is discussing here the rather sweeping resolution he introduced recently to investigate the government.

He proposes, in brief, that a committee consider the present mood of the nation for introspection and destructive criticism. This committee would ask the same question to which he is giving his own answer, inquiring of ex-president Taft, ex-presidential candidates, ex-judges, ex-governors and others who qualify as "elder statesmen."

His idea for the inquiry has received wide notice. Judge Elbert H. Gary and Otto H. Kahn are among the notables who have written to express their interest.

"Congress as it operates now could get its year's work done in 30 days," says Thomas, and the remark is not exactly praise. "It has given away authority and surrendered its powers until little is left. The nation's finances, while hmean virtually the entire government policy, are under control of the federal reserve board.

"If the railroads want anything, they take it up with the interstate commerce commission, not with congress. If industry wants anything, it goes to the tariff commission. Even appropriations are mostly dictated by the budget bureau.

"Efficiency in congress would not be helped by reducing the membership, even if it is unwieldy now. The house would be just as efficient with 1000 members as at present. A small group of leaders always will steer it.

"The large membership is desirable to attend to affairs for people back home. If the number of congressmen is cut, it would be necessary to establish state offices in Washington to do the routine work. The important change is to restore to the people, through congress, the guidance of the government."

"If I were reshaping things here I'd first wipe out every bureau that could possibly be abolished. Some are quite useless or undesirable and simply would be cut off.

"Others could be given to the existing department of some cabinet officer. Still others should be made into fact-gathering agencies to serve congress. The tariff commission, for example, should be an assistant to the house ways and means committee.

"To increase popular confidence in the government, I believe in putting the government back into the hands of the people. I want to see this inquiry started, to gather light on the question from those elder statesmen who would be listened to as experts."

GENEVA FIASCO FORCES BERLIN INTO NEW PACT

BERLIN, May 25.—The attacks on the treaty of Berlin show how well advised German-Russian jurists were when they took the greatest possible care to formulate the treaty so that it should not juridically contravene Germany's obligations under the Locarno agreements or as a prospective member of the league.

Critics of the treaty are thus reduced to raising political or even ethical objections, or to deploring it as inopportune. With regard to the latter charge, it has been pointed out that certain changes have been going on in Eastern Europe.

World Not Petrified

The world was not petrified into immobility by the Geneva fiasco. The frontiers of eastern Europe are a problem just as urgent and more complex than the frontiers of western Europe, and it is largely in consequence of the initiative of Russia, stimulated no doubt by the Geneva fiasco, that the system of agreements analogous to the Locarno agreements in the west may eventually take shape in the east.

Besides this general tendency there have been important discussions between Russia and Lithuania, Russia and Poland, and Poland and Rumania, the last resulting in a treaty that was bound to have repercussion in Germany, too.

Concern Over East Frontier

Germany, as full of concern over her eastern as over her western frontiers, could not remain indifferent and inactive just because western powers might take it amiss if she moved a finger before she was made a member of the League of Nations.

It has been said that the treaty of Berlin has created a new situation. The new situation began to take shape after the Geneva fiasco. The treaty of Berlin neither began it nor completed it, although it gave it far reaching significance.

It is perfectly well understood here that the treaty does not improve Germany's chances of entering the league in September, and that it may even impair them; but Germany was all the less able to remain inactive as there was no certainty of her being admitted in September, even before there was any talk of her treaty with Russia.

Enhance Locarno Pacts

If she is admitted after all, it is held by the German leaders that the treaty in its present form will enhance rather than diminish the value of the Locarno agreements, for security in the west is a fiction as long as there is no security in the east.

If she is not admitted, then her treaty with Russia, limited as it is by the exigencies of the Locarno agreements and of the league covenant, may no longer suffice for her needs, and may be reinforced in a manner that would lead to a much closer union of Russo-German interests. This is all the more possible as German Nationalists, should there be a second fiasco at Geneva, may come into power again.

North and South Ireland Exchange Radio Programs

DUBLIN, May 25.—The new friendly relations between northern and southern Ireland are reflected in the interchange of programs between Dublin and Belfast broadcasting stations. From time to time each relays the other's programs.

Dublin regularly relays London programs, the difficulties of conveyance by land and sea lines having been overcome.

The London programs are popular in Dublin.

Harry Lauder Not Through on Stage

LONDON, May 25.—America may expect "farewell" tours by Sir Harry Lauder just as long as the famous Scotch comedian can waggle his kilt.

"I shall not give up the stage until I can find a better job," said Sir Harry, recently. "I shall go right on to the end of the road; I shall never leave my profession until I have to."

Sir Harry, who is 56, began work as a boy in a flax mill and later worked in coal mines, earning 15 shillings a week. In 1892 he entered the singing profession in Glasgow and thought himself lucky to get a salary of $8 a week. Today he receives about $10,000 a week for his appearances.

LONG BEACH

LONG BEACH to ANAHEIM using only

Demonstrating the thriftiness of Macmillan Gasoline, Elta Thompson, fair daughter of Scotland, drove a stock Star touring car from the City Hall in Long Beach to the Auto Salon of the Valencia Orange Show at Anaheim, using but three quarts of Macmillan Gasoline.

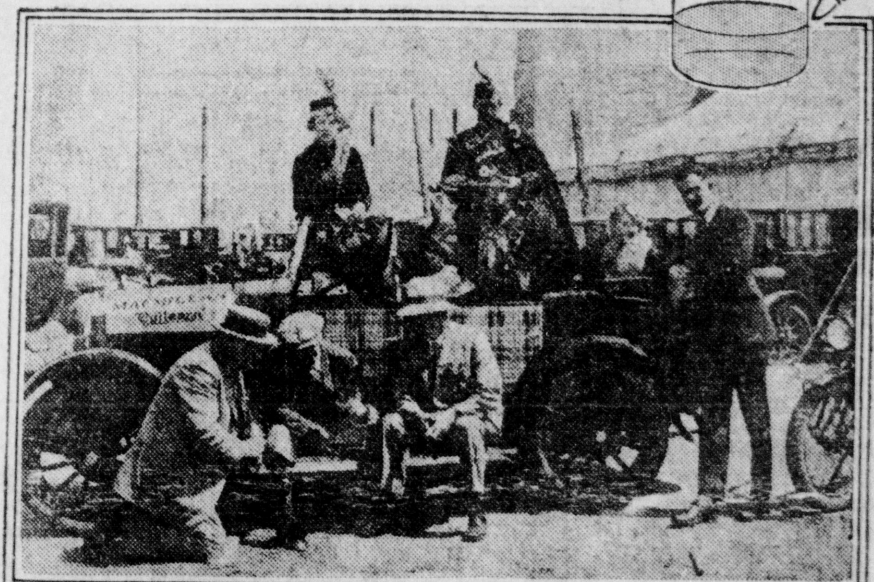

Exactly one gallon of gasoline was placed in a glass container which was substituted for the fuel tank. This container was connected directly with the vacuum of the car and was inspected by "Doc" Weatherby, Long Beach newspaper man and official observer. Fully one quart of gasoline was in the jar when the car arrived at the Orange Show,—that's the announcement made by Geo. W. Reid, Manager, and Dr. H. A. Johnston, President, of the Valencia Orange Show, after inspecting the tank at the finish. The speedometer registered 26 miles.

This is the sixth official test made on Macmillan Gasoline within two months. Every test has established its superiority. Nearly unbelievable mileage records have been established, and today hundreds of motorists are enjoying the thriftiness of this gasoline. They are getting from one to three and four miles more per gallon than they have been accustomed to.

You too may enjoy the reduction of your cost per mile in the operation of an automobile by using this thrifty motor fuel.

Are You Slipping in Efficiency?

What Every Doctor Knows

Acidophilus Milk is used by the medical profession to effect a transformation of the flora of the intestines, eliminating the undesirable bacteria and imparting in their place a desirable health-giving flora. Acidophilus Milk is prescribed and is acknowledged to be a specific therapy in cases of intestinal toxemias, chronic constipation, chronic diarrhoea and other intestinal disorders. Also recommended in treatment of rheumatic conditions and facial eruptions, traced to intestinal origin, and in summer diarrhoea and other intestinal toxic conditions of infants.

The tell-tale evidence may be in the loss of keenness of eye, ear or mind; lack of the old-time enjoyment of eating; symptoms of faulty elimination or the premature appearance of wrinkles—the too-hurried approach of old age?

Thousands realize their tendency to these conditions. To such, we say, try A-dof-lus as a regular diet. Its effect in many cases is wonderful. It is in reality the well known Acidophilus milk, a scientifically-processed milk which contains those vital elements that for years have placed Acidophilus milk foremost among doctor's prescriptions for the relief of intestinal disorders, for re-establishing in the intestinal passages the original healthful flora after having destroyed the harmful bacteria that are in many cases the cause of disease.

A-dof-lus is a pleasing, refreshing, appetizing drink containing all the nutrition of fresh, sweet milk. It is a well-balanced ration in itself. A bottle of it makes almost a meal. Order it for the family table, and for your down-town lunch.

IVANHOE—Sir Walter Scott's Classic in Pictorial Form

ARROWS FLEW, THICK AS CLOUDS, AT THE DEFENDERS, BUT DID ONLY SMALL DAMAGE, AND THE BESIEGERS SUFFERED THEMSELVES FROM CROSSBOW FIRE. IVANHOE, ON HIS COAT, INSURED REBECCA TO NOW THE BATTLE WAS GOING. "I SEE NOTHING BUT THE CLOUDS OF ARROWS," SHE REPLIED. "AND THE KNIGHT OF THE FETTERLOCK?" HE ASKED.

"SEE HIM NOT," SAID REBECCA. "FOUL CRAVEN," AS SAID HE. "DOES HE BLENCH FROM THE HELM WHEN THE WIND BLOWS HIGHEST?" "HE BLENCHES NOT!" EXCLAIMED REBECCA. "HE LEADS A BODY OF MEN CLOSE UNDER THE OUTER BARRIERS OF THE BARRACAN. THEY PULL DOWN THE PALISADES; THEY HEW WITH THEIR AXES. HIS HIGH BLACK PLUME FLOATS AHEAD."

"OLY PROPHETS OF THE LAW!" REBECCA EXCLAIMED AFTER A PAUSE. "FRONT-DE-BOEUF AND THE BLACK KNIGHT FIGHT HAND TO HAND ON THE BREACH. HE IS DOWN!" IVANHOE CRIED. "WHO IS DOWN?" "THE BLACK KNIGHT," ANSWERED REBECCA. "BUT NO, HE IS ON FOOT AGAIN AND FIGHTS WITH THE STRENGTH OF TWENTY MEN. HIS SWORD IS BROKEN."

"E SNATCHES AN AX FROM A YEOMAN; HE PRESSES FRONT-DE-BOEUF WITH BLOW ON BLOW. THE GIANT STOOPS AND TOTTLES—HE FALLS! 'FRONT-DE-BOEUF' EXCLAIMED IVANHOE. 'FRONT-DE-BOEUF' ANSWERED REBECCA. 'HIS MEN DRAG HIM WITHIN THE WALLS.' 'BY ST. JOHN OF ACRE,' SAID IVANHOE. 'HE THOUGHT THERE WAS BUT ONE THAT MIGHT DO SUCH DEEDS.' (To Be Continued)

The WOMAN'S DAY

by Allene Summer

One of Alice's Jokes!
For nearly one-quarter of a century Alice Roosevelt Longworth has been the most discussed woman of Washington, not even excluding First Ladies who have come and gone since the day when Princess Alice slid down the White House banisters.

Grave and learned senators, they say, will not deliver what they believe to be their real speech of the season unless Mrs. Longworth, her neat toque clutched in her hand, is leaning over the senate gallery rail to hear them and tell them whether it was a good search or not.

We are reminded of Alice again by James Kerney's new book called "The Political Education of Woodrow Wilson." He writes—"I visited Wilson in his S street home. With considerable grace he repeated a couple of Alice Roosevelt's best stories around town." And they say women have no power and influence today!

Irving and Ellin!
Now Irving Berlin and his helmsman, Ellin Mackay, have written a new waltz song called "At Peace With the World." I, for one, am become a bit awestruck of the public exhibitionism of Irving Berlin's love torn heart back in the dark and dread days when he wrote "All Alone" as contrasted with the present balmy days when he tells the world that it's "Always" and "At Peace" at last! But I suppose business is business even if it means commercializing one's own romance!

"Woman's Dilemma"
There is no reason why hot roasts and vegetables may not be prepared in large kitchens and sent into private homes as easily and efficiently as ice cream now is," says Alice Beal Parsons in a new volume called "Woman's Dilemma," which sets forth the full cause of feminism as few books ever have. An hour a day is ample for keeping the small house or apartment in order, says she. And she questions with a loud firm voice that all domestic chores should go to the feminine half of the household only.

A great book for club woman discussion!

Spanish Chocolate
For the after-the-show smack that is a little different, make Spanish chocolate and serve with wafers. Shave two squares of chocolate and cook with 1-2 cup sugar and 1-2 cup water, stirring. Add 1-2 teaspoon salt and 1 pint rich milk. Let the whole boil two minutes. Turn two stiffly beaten eggs into mixture beating over low flame until all is a fine froth. Mixture is thick but smooth.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
NO. 20—THE BARREL FAIRY

"Who are you?" cried the Twins.
"I do wonder if Mister Snoopy stole my shadow," said the little Rag-bag Whiffet, as he and the Twins continued on their journey.

"I shouldn't wonder," said a voice. And without any warning at all, a barrel started to roll along beside them.

"Who are you?" cried the Twins, who remembered the story about the wolf and the little pig and how the little pig crawled into a churn and rolled the whole way to Franklin Fair.

"I'm just a barrel fairy," said the voice. "I have no home and I live in a barrel. As I have rheumatism in one of my wings and can't fly, I just roll my barrel around. Do you mind if I go a little way with you? I get very lonesome."

"Certainly not," said Nick. "We'd like to have you."

So they all walked along and along and along, and the barrel-fairy rolled himself along and along and along and pretty soon they came to a steep hill. "Dear me!" cried the barrel fairy. "I can't get up this steep hill! And I do want to go with you. I'm so lonesome and everything."

"Oh, that's all right," said Nick. "Don't you worry! You must be pretty light if you're a fairy, and Nancy and I can carry you up. Nancy, you lift one end of the barrel and I'll lift the other, and the little Whiffet can push up from underneath."

"Well then, I'll be ever and ever so much obliged," said the barrel fairy, giving the barrel a little wiggle to show how happy he was. Both ends of the barrel were shut up so tight so the Twins couldn't see inside. But when they started to lift the barrel, Nick said, "Say, fairy, you must be pretty fat."

"Oh, I'm not really," said the barrel fairy. "I'm so thin I have to stand up twice to make a shadow."

This made the little Whiffet feel pretty bad, talking about shadows

"In all, but anyway he helped, and after struggling and struggling they got to the top of the hill."

"There!" said Nick as he and Nancy sat down on a bank to rest. "I guess you can go the rest of the way yourself all right. There aren't any more hills to climb."

"Oooh! But I can see out of a crack," said the barrel fairy, "and there's a steep hill to go down right in front of us."

"Can't you roll down?" asked Nancy.

"Oooh! I couldn't! My barrel would smash if it hit anything. And as long as I have such bad rheumatism in my wing, I must have my barrel," said the fairy.

"Well then, we'll have to carry you down," said Nick.

So the Twins picked up the barrel and struggled and struggled until at last they reached the foot of the hill.

"There!" said Nick. "I guess you are all right now."

"Just for a little while," said the barrel-fairy. "There's a deep creek ahead and I can't roll over that."

"For goodness sake!" said Nancy. "How far are you going?"

"I'm going to see my grandma," said the barrel fairy. "She lives just past the woods."

"Well sir! The poor Twins carried that barrel about two miles. There was always some new reason why the barrel fairy had to be carried."

"This is the place," said the voice in the barrel at last. "Much obliged."

At that the lid flew off and out bounced the three bad Gazookumuses. "Much obliged!" they shouted again as they ran off into the woods. "We had a very nice ride indeed. We'll be going home about half past two if you pass this way."

The Twins were too mad to answer.

Plain Selfishness Often Called Love, Cynthia Grey Says

By CYNTHIA GREY

A young man shot himself in New York City the other day. "Dearest Anna," he wrote his fiancée. "I love you better than tongue can tell. I hope you love me enough to forgive me even my death. I cannot bear to live, because our marriage has to be postponed."

"Cruel life has beaten me, and I must escape from it all. But I love you. Be happy—John."

There you have it. Pure selfishness masquerading under the cloak of love! Cowardice wearing the disguise of devotion.

If Anna is a sentimentalist, she may spend the rest of her life mourning this heroic swain who could not "bear to live," because he could not marry her at once.

But if Anna is a rationalist, she will not waste too many tears upon the man who skipped out and left her to face this "cruel life" alone, with the shadow of his death hanging over her.

While loading the pistol for his own "escape," he stops to urge her to "be happy." Then he calmly pulls the trigger, and is quit of the whole mess.

Yet he probably thought he loved her and was killing himself for love, when, all the time, he loved only himself, and was killing himself for cowardice.

For love doesn't deliberately leave the loved one defenseless and grief-stricken. It doesn't think of itself first.

Love is thoughtful and unselfish and brave.

It doesn't prompt suicides.

WERE I YOUNGER

If I were younger, I believe that I should be as frivolous and blithe and bold
As those today who shock the serious old;
The modern dances I should surely try,
And pet the pretty maidens on the sly;
If I were younger, and the truth were told,
I shouldn't be so grave and prim and cold.

Even my grandpa's counsel I'd defy,
I frown on pleasures which I can't pursue.
For me the Charleston comes an age too late;
This modern youth has joys I never knew.
Now time on me has laid its heavy weight,
But were I younger, this I know is true,
I'd do the very things these youngsters do.

ANSWERED LETTERS

Miss T. T.—Your weight of 134 pounds with a height of five feet, four inches, is all right if you are 40 or more years.

Massage the calves of your legs with cocoa butter to help fatten them.

Q. H.—You can use the egg asstringent every week without any fear of its withering the skin. Any asstringent tends to dry out the skin's secretions for a short time, so you must guard against any lasting effect by using plenty of cream or a good oil as soon as the asstringent is removed.

There is nothing in the white of an egg that could injure the skin or impair the action of the glands. Your own feelings will guide you correctly, and if your skin feels drawn after using the asstringent, weaken it and never fail to feed the skin again with oil or cream.

Dorothy S.—If you massage your scalp every day you will find that your hair will grow much faster than it does at present.

Mrs. George D. W.—The only way you can keep your finger tips dainty when the nails are ridgy is to scrub them with the small, stiff brushes that come for this purpose. The brushes that are concave and with rows of bristles less than a quarter inch are the most convenient. If you use a file or any other sharp tool under such nails, it will only partially clean them and it will roughen the skin so there is more chance to soil under the nail.

An orange wood stick dipped in soft soap will sometimes take the place of the brush, or you may use the stick and soap first, and follow with the brush.

You can help the whole condition if you rub oil into such nails every day, and use the buffer also to improve the circulation under the nails. Badly ridged nails come from some condition in the system, but you can improve them with oil and buffing.

Miss Fannie H.—Blackheads between the shoulders may come from wearing dark dresses that come directly in contact with the skin. Hot water, soap and a bathbrush should be all necessary to rid yourself of the trouble.

MENUS for the FAMILY

By SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Grapefruit sections, cereal, thin cream, flizzled dried beef, crisp whole wheat toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Baked eggs with cheese sauce, buttered spinach, pineapple rice pudding, graham bread, milk, tea.

Dinner—Salmon timbales, potatoes au gratin, creamed new peas, jellied fruit salad, floating island, bran bread, milk, coffee.

The breakfast for a child under school age who comes to the family table might be something like this: albuminized orange juice, cereal, thin cream, crisp whole wheat toast, milk. And be sure that the toast is so crisp it's "crunchy." The orange juice is slightly beaten with the white of an egg. This makes a drink that is almost perfect for small children. However bulky foods such as cereal and toast must be included in their diet in order that their tummies may have a chance to keep busy.

Pineapple Rice Pudding

Two cups boiled rice, 1-2 cup sugar, 1 cup grated pineapple, 1-2 cup whipping cream.

Drain juice from pineapple. Combine rice, pineapple and sugar. Chill and fold in cream whipped until stiff. Turn into a mold and chill for one hour or longer.

This is a simple delicious dessert. (Copyright, 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

Latex from the United States Rubber Company's Plantations is transported to this country in tank steamers, then unloaded into tank cars, and so shipped to the Company's tire factories.

Answering Some Questions About LATEX—The New Word in Tire Building

Question—What is Latex?

A—Latex is the milky-white watery liquid that flows from the bark of a rubber tree when it is tapped. It is the source of all rubber.

Q—Why then is "Latex" a new word in tire building?

A—Because it was only when the United States Rubber Company began producing Latex-treated Web Cord that Latex was used in tire building.

Q—How is Latex used in building United States tires?

A—Every cord in a tire must be impregnated with rubber before it is built into the structure. In United States Tires this is done by soaking the cords in Latex. By this method, the cords are impregnated with pure natural rubber, giving the cords exceptional flexibility and strength.

Q—If only United States Tires use Latex to impregnate the cords, how are other tires built?

A—The cords are "solutioned" in a bath of dissolved rubber; or they are "frictioned"—rubber squeezed into the cords by roller pressure.

Q—Where does the United States Rubber Company get its Latex?

A—A large part of it comes from the rubber trees on its own plantations in Sumatra and Malaya; and the balance from neighboring plantations where the United States Rubber Company Plantation Experts know the proper quality can be secured.

Q—Is there then a difference in Latex?

A—Yes. Just as there is a difference in maple sugar, apples, peaches or pears, or the product of any tree.

Q—Why don't other tire builders use Latex?

A—The processes for using Latex were discovered, patented and are owned by the United States Rubber Company.

JUNIOR CHAMBER MEETING IN HEWES PARK IS FEATURED BY STEAK DINNER AND SPEECHES

The meeting, last night, of the junior division of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce was one "long to be remembered" for a number of reasons, in the opinion, today, of 150 young men, who attended the affair.

Long tables were set under the pepper trees in beautiful Hewes park. Mine Host D. Eymann Huff, manager of the Hewes Ranch company, piled on the tables heaps of wonderful food, the piece de resistance of which was broiled toro steaks grande.

The following was the menu:

Anapauma cocktail, Aucotti salad with trimmings, broiled toro steaks grande, catsup, horse radish, Worcester sauce, baked potatoes, frioles callente, rolls, Jersey butter, Jersey milk, coffee, orange juice, sweetheart, seegars, phosphorous.

The broiling of the steaks was supervised by Robert L. Blsby. There were plenty of second helpings for everyone. If from no other angle than eating, it was "an occasion long to be remembered."

The entertainment was provided by Harold Yost. Billie Mann offered several black face numbers and three pretty maids, Hazelle, Lucille and Ella, sang and danced four lively selections. The entertainers entered fully into the spirit of the meeting and were roundly applauded for their efforts.

Lions Quartet Sings
The Lions club quartet, "Andy" Anderson, Dr. E. H. Rowland, Bruce Monroe and Fred Wilde, and E. M. Sundquist, accompanist, enlivened the session with numbers at strategic moments and several encores were demanded of them.

President Mason Youd announced that the junior division would hold a demonstration tonight in favor of the passage of the bond and tax levies tomorrow. The members were asked to have their automobiles in front of the Hill hardware company at 6:30 p. m.

Lew Wallace, the original booster for Orange county harbor, at Newport Beach, announced that a two-day extension had been granted for speakers to enter the three-minute contest on the subject, "How Development of Newport Harbor Will Benefit Orange County." Wallace exhibited the fine silver trophy cup, which is to be awarded to the winner of the speaking contest at the special harbor bond election meeting, to be held next Monday night.

Ex-Senator Frank P. Flint made a few brief remarks, declaring that all successful civic organizations had come to realize that the young men must be brought into the organization to function as it should. Flint called attention to the fact that he had planted the trees under which the assembly was devouring the juicy steaks and that he was almost as much a resident of Orange county as he was of Los Angeles county.

Political Candidates Present

A number of political candidates were present last night and "contributed to the general welfare" of the organization. C. E. Jackson, candidate for sheriff; Horace Fine, candidate for county treasurer; James Livesey sr., candidate for county treasurer; Sam Jernigan, candidate for re-election as sheriff; Jesse Elliott, candidate for constable, and John R. Ryan, candidate for constable, all were introduced to the throng and were applauded.

Judge Robert Clarke, candidate for the Republican nomination to the U. S. senate, was the next speaker. He emphasized particularly that he stood for the construction of the Boulder dam and the development of Orange county harbor and that he hoped the 2,500,000 people in Southern California would see fit to send a genuine son of the Southland to represent them in the U. S. senate.

Playground Expert Talks

George W. Braden, special representative, western division, of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, with headquarters in Pasadena, was called upon for a short speech. Braden said that he was confident that the voters of Santa Ana would see fit to pass the park bonds because, if they didn't, they might be forced to pay five times the price for the land after the city has continued to develop and, in the meantime, be without parks.

George Raymer, secretary of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, spoke along the same line as Braden. He called upon all voters to do their civic duty at the polls.

About 30 new members of the junior division were introduced. Other new members present were too modest and retiring to make their appearances before the meeting but the showing clearly indicated that the organization certainly is a going concern.

The meeting closed with a rousing cheer for D. Eymann Huff and announcement on his part that he would make the steak feed an annual free affair for the junior division.

Co-eds Aroused By School Fence

LONDON, May 25.—In the midst of troublous days the nation has been laughing at the plight of the 800 girl students of Somerville college, Oxford, seat of the famous university for men.

One of the girl students was helped over the 10-foot high brick wall by a youth with whom she had been to a party from which they returned at 2 in the morning. She fell. That started the trouble. The strands of barbed wire strung on uprights embedded in the wall's bricks is the answer. Where the wall is down owing to repairs a high fence of barbed wire has been substituted.

The rules require the return of girls not later than 11 p. m. Boys may remain out until 12:15. Miss Penrose, principal of the college, says there has been no sign of defiance. Some of the girl students announce that they have written home asking to be transferred elsewhere on the ground that the barbed wire makes the college look like a prison camp.

HARBOR DRIVE PROGRESS TOLD AT CLUB MEET

One of the two government dredges enroute to the Pacific coast may be available for dredging work in Newport bay if the harbor bond issue of $1,200,000 is voted on June 10, it was announced by L. H. Wallace at a meeting of the Orange County Harbor Luncheon club, held yesterday in the American Legion hut, Newport Beach.

Wallace pointed out that if one of the dredgers could be procured for work in the harbor it was possible that the cost would be less than it would under a private contract. Members of the Orange County Automobile Trades association were present and a number of other individuals were present as guests of the club.

R. G. Chambers, of Costa Mesa, reported to the club that before noon yesterday he had raised among residents of Costa Mesa the sum of $500 for a harbor publicity fund and predicted the community would contribute a total of $1500 to the fund.

Harry Hays, of the Reliance Title company, made declaration that the company was 100 per cent for the bonds, and H. H. Henshaw, of Laguna Beach, said that community would vote 100 per cent for the issue.

In response to a call by C. H. Way, club chairman, J. P. Greeley, George Raymer, A. B. Rousselet and Horace Fine made brief talks on the harbor project.

Harry Welch, secretary of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce, made a brief explanation of the tidelands situation on the harbor.

Following the luncheon, the tradesmen and other guests were taken for a boat ride over the bay.

BOY CLUBBED BY TEACHER, CLAIM

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 25.—An investigation has begun into charges made by James Christman, 9, that Miss Mary Hickman, a school teacher, beat him with a broomstick because he could not tell her how many fours there are in 32.

The boy is in bed with one leg in a cast, suffering from bruises he says he received at the hands of Miss Hickman.

Several children in Miss Hickman's room corroborated the boy's statement. Mrs. Henry Christman, James' mother, asserted that when the boy came home from school at noon on the day of the alleged beating she counted 20 welts on his legs and hips.

Miss Hickman declined to discuss the case other than to say a reputable physician found nothing wrong with the boy's leg.

GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, May 25.—Piano pupils studying under Mrs. J. Orland Smith will give a free piano recital in the Garden Grove high school library Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

Mrs. S. R. Fitz and Mrs. E. M. Dozier entertained residents of West Chapman avenue at a 1 o'clock luncheon on Friday at the former's home.

The luncheon was given in honor of Mrs. P. N. Magnusson, who is leaving June 9 for Colorado, where Prof. P. N. Magnusson will teach in a summer school.

Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Bodenhamer have left by machine for their home in Wichita, Kans., after spending two months with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Henry attended the annual meeting of old schoolmates of the Pomona Valley club in Pomona Saturday evening. Thirty-six members were present. The meeting next year will be held at the home of Mrs. Esther Winters, near Anaheim. Mr. and Mrs. Henry were accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, of Wildomar, who remained here over Sunday.

Mrs. J. C. Mitchell left Monday on a trip to the east. Among the eastern points she will also visit her mother at Lebanon, Ore. She expects to be gone about three months. Mrs. Mitchell is accompanied by Mrs. Grace Finn, of Santa Ana, who intends to spend the summer in the east.

The Rev. David B. Loofbourrow was called to Orange Friday to conduct the funeral services of Mrs. James F. Spotts, an old time resident of that city.

Service Versus Promise

YOU want what you want when you want it! And that's right. You pay for your needs, comforts and luxuries and have the right to expect adequate service and immediate delivery.

YOUR Local Merchants understand this and carry tremendous stocks of merchandise, at fair prices, to afford you full opportunity to express your good taste in your selections and, in most instances, deliver your purchases to your door that same day.

ADDED to this comprehensive service at the lowest possible prices, because they are automatically regulated by competition, is the convenience of charge accounts and the installment plan purchasing offered by many stores.

FURTHERMORE they make their promises to you in writing, actually going on record, in their advertisements, as to just what they will do for you and what all you may expect. And they MUST live up to their promises if they would remain in business.

THE combined power of your Local Merchants represents a huge, well-oiled, smooth-running, market-searching, merchandise-distributing machine, running at top speed and at a much smaller profit than you realize; offering merchandise in an ideal atmosphere; presenting a march of sales events that, through the year, saves thousands upon thousands of dollars for the homes of this vicinity—for your home and mine!

It is time to call a halt—as between your solid "Local Merchant" and the itinerant "bell-ringing peddler," your choice, for your own protection, is obvious!

NOW let us contrast this splendid mercantile service with the itinerant "bell-ringing peddler." He comes pussy-footing up your steps to ring your door bell at all sorts of hours during the day—often at most inconvenient moments.

HIS main interest in you is the advance deposit he seeks to extract from you on your possible purchase, which he usually retains as his "commission." He leaves nothing with you but a memory of some valuable time lost, a receipt and many glamorous "promises" about his merchandise. The receipt may be good—he knows you'll have difficulty remembering all those beautiful promises.

HE doesn't expect to see you again and knows not the restraint a desire to secure your good will would impose. He has no future contact with you to consider at all and his firm is too far away to control him—perhaps doesn't even care to do so anyway.

HE is helping to build up a business in some city other than yours. He isn't a local taxpayer, nor is his firm. He knows full well the impossibility of the "magnificent" savings he promises you. His commission, plus the general agent's share, plus factory profits, advertising and production costs absolutely rule out any so-called savings. Often you actually pay a premium for his merchandise.

HIS whole plan of campaign is based on the general public's, yes your trustfulness. Else he couldn't exist for a day!

SALESMANSHIP has sold many an automobile, but it takes more than a selling talk to deliver day-in and day-out satisfactory automotive transportation. The man who buys a car is more often pleased than the man who buys a prospectus of one. Behind every car (whether new or used) we sell is a great modern institution dedicated not merely to the selling of cars, but to the daily needs of the man who has bought a car. Here is partial list of the fine used cars we now have in stock.

Airplane Service Will Be Extended

BERLIN, May 25.—With steady pace, the airplane is obliterating space and time in traveling from out-of-the-way places. The network of air lines that now cover all northern Europe is to be extended over the country between Western land-on-Syrt and Wyk-on-Foehr, cities on two of the Frisian islands in the North Sea.

Though the towns are only 15 miles apart, it takes a whole day to travel from one town to the other by the present rail and water route, which leads through Friesland, Denmark, on the mainland and then back to the island of Foehr.

JONES, QUIMET WIN BRITISH GOLF MATCHES

WEST INDS
By Eddie West

We read in The Generator, the weekly news publication at the Santa Ana high school, that they are rushing to completion the city's new gymnasium building so that the students may formally dedicate the $100,000 structure with a dance.

We also are informed reliably that Andrews Hall, for the gymnasium is thus to be known in respect to the late Frank L. Andrews, secretary of the board of education, has facilities for "just the sweetest proms," rivaling, we are told amiably, big dance pavilions in France, Italy or some such place.

Isn't it just too sweet for words.

Now we haven't any particular war to wage or quarrel to pick with those pretty little things who do so look forward to their tri-weekly terephorean activities. Even if we did, we never would get to first base anyway, so what's the use? The recreational and educational advantages to be derived from the "sport" are such that even our educators are subscribing to them.

In all seriousness, however, it might be paying a greater honor to the memory of the late Mr. Andrews, who labored so sincerely for better athletic equipment, to at least dedicate the building with something other than sliding feet, a moaning saxophone and the Charleston.

Walter Johnson, now pitching his twentieth year in the major leagues, won his 400th ball game the other day. It was his sixth victory in seven starts this season.

How long, you wonder, will the Old Master go on. They said he was through years ago, but his wins in 1924 were the biggest factor in Washington's capture of the pennant that year. They said he was through after losing his first two world series starts that fall. Yet in the final game he went in as relief pitcher and a forlorn hope and won imperishable glory by setting John McGraw's men on their heads.

They said he was through, too, after the Pirates had massacred him in the deciding game of the world series last fall. Yet, here he is, in his thirty-ninth year, still the pitching ace of the Washington club, still the biggest hero of American boyhood.

And further than that, you have it on the word of every ball player who has played with or against him, every umpire who has known him, that Walter Johnson is supremely a gentleman. Billy Evans in his "Billy Evans Says" for The Register, has written that he has won lots of bad balls on Johnson without the big fellow ever so much as muttering.

Day in and day out he gives his best. And if he wins he wins like a gentleman, and if he loses he loses with a smile, without complaint. They make few like Walter Johnson. May the day come when we read that he has won his 500th big league contest.

"It never rains but it pours" is a saying that may be applied to the current crop of new track records.

Roland Locke, famous Nebraska flash, was clocked in the 100-yard dash in the amazing time of nine and a half seconds. People questioned it, it was unbelievable; anyway, there was a wind at his back. And about the same time he sets a new mark for the 220-yard—also "unofficial."

And then "along comes Charlie" Paddock, the world's fastest human" proved that nine and a half seconds in the 100-yard dash is a possibility.

These records have withstood the assaults of time and thousands of athletes. Charley Hoff, the Norwegian wonder, continues to scale dizzy heights in the pole vault. "Tis a dizzy age, they seem to breed men these days, who seem as sheiks and drug store cowboys.

WOMEN GOLFERS IN SOUTHLAND TOURNEY

LOS ANGELES, May 25.—Sixteen women in pairs of two were to try out today at the Midwick Country club at Alhambra for the first round of match play in the annual Southern California Women's Golf championship.

A large gallery was present to follow Miss Kathleen Wright, of Pasadena, medalist of the tournament, who was matched with Mrs. R. G. Miller. Miss Wright shot a brilliant 82 to win the Gross medal.

Legion Winner As Orange League On

ORANGE, May 25.—Opening the City league, the American Legion took a fast game, 6 to 3, from the Mueller Field store team on the indoor baseball field at the high school athletic field here last night.

Although many ships were made through the players being unacquainted to the new field, the 300 spectators received full value for the admission fee.

Mayor L. A. Stevenson pitched the first ball across the plate to City Marshal E. F. Richards.

AMERICAN HOPES IN BRITISH GOLF CLASSIC

It's been 22 long years since an American representative copped the famous British amateur golf crown. The renowned Walter Travis did it in 1904, standing alone in this respect. This week Uncle Sammy trotted out one of the greatest delegations this country ever sent across the pond with the hope that the lengthy European advance will be halted. Will one of these boys duplicate Travis' feat?

BILLY EVANS SAYS

FRENCH FASTEST
Speed is once more becoming a prominent factor in baseball. With the slugging type game that has been popular for some years, speed lost much of its value.

Now that the teams are resorting to strategy, bringing back some of the inside stuff that has been stored away for many seasons, speed once more comes to the front.

In this connection I might add, that I regard Walter French of the Philadelphia Athletics, the fastest man in the American league.

There are better base runners, because French has yet to master the art of getting a big lead. However, no player in the American, I doubt in the majors, can step to first or circle the bases as fast as French.

The former West Point star athlete runs close to the ground and travels much faster than his style would have you believe.

DISPLAY FAILS

The failure of Display, winner of the Preakness, to finish better than tenth in the Kentucky Derby, was a distinct disappointment to turf followers in the east.

The manner in which Display won the historic Preakness, made it seem that he had an excellent chance to beat such great horses as Bubbling Over, Baggenbaggage, Pompey and the rest of the classy field.

Display, a bad actor at the post, as usual, held up the Derby start, but never was a contender.

Only once in turf history has the same horse won both the Derby and Preakness. Back in 1919, Sir Barton turned the trick. It stands as one of the greatest achievements in turfdom.

When two of Bradley's horses, Bubbling Over and Baggenbaggage finished one, two, it marked the second time the Bradley thoroughbreds finished that way in the Derby. Back in 1921 Behave Yourself and Black Servant came under to win and place.

Schlaifer Loses Portland License

PORTLAND, Ore., May 25.—Morrie Schlaifer, the self-styled "murdering" swimmer, has been suspended for one year by the Portland Boxing commission following his refusal to meet his contract to fight Eddie Roberts, Tacoma welterweight, here tonight.

HOLD QUALIFICATION TRIALS THURSDAY FOR INDIANAPOLIS AUTO RACING CLASSIC MAY 31

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 25.—A score of speed veterans who will bid for a share of the $100,000 purse offered at the 500-mile auto race classic here May 31 today were turning up their mounts on the brick speedway. Thirty-eight cars—including those of foreign make—will whirl away Thursday on the qualification trials when each driver must attain a speed of 85 miles an hour or more in order to enter the race.

The Indianapolis race—which is the prize morsel of the American motor racing world—this year probably will see greater crowds but a slightly diminished speed. Speedway officials said today.

The diminished speed probably will come from a smaller piston displacement than was used last year. When Pete De Paolo brought home his Duesenberg at the head of the field last year, he had averaged 101.3 miles an hour for the 500 miles. However, the displacement of that car was 122 inches, whereas all of the cars this year must have displacements of no more than 91 1/2 inches.

De Paolo is re-entering this year with two cars and he is undecided which to use. He has a Duesenberg and a Miller. He is trying both in the "tuning up" trials but later may assign some other driver to one of his mounts.

In addition to De Paolo, all of the other veterans of the race world are entered. Ralph De Palma, who has driven in ten of the 13 Indianapolis classics—will make a bid for the race. Other drivers include Dave Lewis, Harry Hartz, Bennett Hill, Earl Cooper, Harlan Fenger and three foreign drivers whose ability on American tracks is unknown.

BOWLING

The following scores were shot in the Broadway Handicap tournament, which opened last night at the Broadway alleys:

HIGGINS SLAMS CUBS' SUCCESS HOMER, UPSETS TIERNAN TEAM

(Slim) Higgins, the elongated shortstop from Long Beach, last night provided a Dick Merriwell finish to the most and most thrilling game to date in the Santa Ana City Indoor Baseball league when he banged a long home run to left field in the ninth inning, giving Arnold Peek's market a 2 to 1 and entirely unexpected victory over the Tiernan Typewriter company at Lincoln park. It was the first time this season that the Tiernans had taken the small end of the score.

Since the Tiernans had previously gone through four consecutive losses, it was unanimously believed they would find the lowly Peek club only material for a good workout but as Eddie Boyd kept turning back the speedy headless youths frame after frame the crowd, sensing a real struggle, began pulling for the under-dogs.

Higgins came up in the ninth with the score tied and nobody on base. He fouled the first one Tommy Hitt threw his way and connected squarely with the second offering. The ball shot over third base and fell behind the telephone pole in deep left, still traveling fast with Harold English, the fleet high school boy, in pursuit. Higgins had no trouble making the rounds. It was a homer in any league.

Boyd allowed the Tiernans only four hits, two of these coming in the first round when Hill and Romo hit safely, the former scoring the lone headless youth tally. Hitt also hurled well, the Peek's getting to him for only seven blows.

The Peek team scored its initial run in the sixth. Fulson got a pass and went all the way around when Williams doubled to center.

Tonight's contest will be between the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company and the Southern Counties Gas company.

SANTA ANA CO-EDS SCORE FIVE RUNS IN SIXTH AND DEFEAT FULLERTON, 10 TO 5

A rally scoring five runs in the sixth inning clinched a 10 to 5 victory for the Santa Ana high school girls' baseball second team in a game against the Fullerton co-eds at Fullerton yesterday.

Up to the beginning of the sixth, the advantage had favored first Santa Ana and then Fullerton. Miss Jean Nicholson, Poly pitcher, walked two Fullerton batters who scored runs in the second frame. Except for scattered runs, Fullerton was unable to score seriously during the rest of the game.

The rally in the sixth was started by Miss Groover. Others who proved heavy hitters for Miss Alverda West's Santa Ana team were the Misses Nicholson, Richards and Drews.

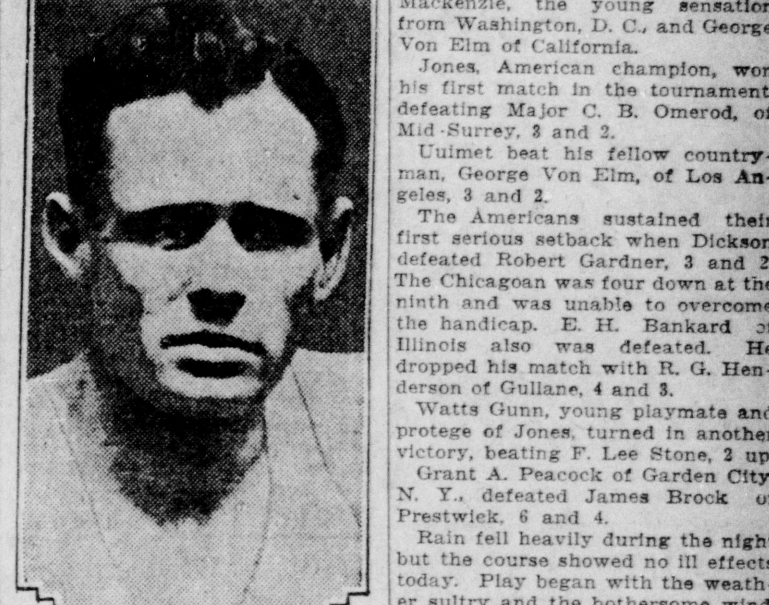

This was the first game that the "seconds" have played this season. The Orange second team is met here Wednesday of next week, according to Miss West. From the showing made against Fullerton, the Poly second team promises to be one of the strongest squads among the county high schools.

'BATS' FOR STAR

LAWRENCE BABCOCK
Stanford University is counting much on Lawrence Babcock, captain-elect, for points at the I. C. A. A. A. track meet at Cambridge, Mass., Saturday. Bill Storie, one of the Cardinal's best bats in the 440, was unable to go east because of the serious illness of his wife and Stanford fans hope Babcock, who usually finds behind his teammates, Storie and Miller, in the quarter, can "bat" for the former. Babcock has run the distance in 49.4 seconds twice this season.

4A'S OVERWHELM 4B OUTFIT AT WILLARD

Many Errors Ruin Hopes of Losers; 6A Class Squad Meets 6C Players Today

By FLETCHER BUXTON

As the 6A class found it necessary to postpone its game with the 6B squad, the high eighth 4A and 4B classes furnished the indoor baseball competition on the Frances E. Willard junior high school diamond yesterday afternoon. The 6A-6C contest was to be fought out this afternoon.

In yesterday's fracas, the 4B class was forced to take a second consecutive defeat when it was snowed under, 18 to 7, by the 4A class. Neither team played with the regular number of players, but as there were eight on each squad there will be no room for dispute.

As usual, numerous errors were made by the 4B team which accounts for its overwhelming defeat. Little Claire Brown, who held down second base on the losers' squad like a veteran, was the redeeming spot in its lineup while Norman Paul and Bruce Turner played well for the 4A team.

The lineup:

Lemon Juice Whitens Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quart of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.—Adv.

NEWS OF LOCAL SCHOOLS

Parent-Teachers

Frances Willard
Father's night as observed recently by Frances Willard P.T.A. was an interesting event in which fathers and sons took the lead, allowing the mothers of the organization to sit back and be entertained.

After a brief business session, the president, Mrs. Charles Stewart, presented the gavel to Mac O. Robbins, requesting that the fathers assume charge of the program, prepared under direction of the Boys' Service club of the school. Lads of the physical education classes exemplified pyramid building after which Lehman Gerken and Melvin Goodchild played Rubenstein's "Melody in F" as a saxophone duet.

Work of the Booster club was explained by its president, Earl Homan, and Philip Hood played a flute solo, "Traumerei" by Schumann. A boys' sextette composed of Lawrence Patterson, Philip Hood, Addison Bowers, Herbert Davis, Lawrence Lutz and Asa Herren, sang "At Nightfall" and "The Conqueror." The aim of the Willard Service club was set forth by Halstead McCormack after which Warren Cooke played a violin solo, "Rhapsody" by Tchaikovsky. The sole feminine contribution to the program came from Mrs. Henry Gerken, historian, and the Misses Adair, Ellis and Esther Vogt, accompanists.

Following the excellent program, election of officers resulted in Mrs. Charles J. Stewart being returned to the presidency with Mrs. F. H. Homan, first vice-president; Mrs. Mac O. Robbins, second vice-president; Miss Ruth Mueller, secretary; Mrs. M. B. Hendricks, historian.

Just before the friendly social interval, during which refreshments were served, Mrs. Norbert Lentz, on behalf of the association, presented Mrs. Stewart with a handsome scarf.

Spurgeon

Spurgeon P.T.A. met Tuesday afternoon of last week for the business meeting and annual election of officers.

After reports of a prosperous year were heard and disposition was made of the treasury surplus, the nominating committee's report was received and unanimously accepted, electing the following officers for the coming year: president, Mrs. Robert Speed; first vice president, Mrs. Rex Kennedy; second vice president, Mrs. E. Latimer; treasurer, Mrs. Hugh Gerrard; recording secretary, Miss Eva Osborn, corresponding secretary, Mrs. John Estes Jr.

Since Spurgeon is inaugurating child study clubs next term, Miss Van Scoyoc gave a flying start by reviewing the first chapter of "The Child, His Nature and His Needs." The meeting gathered into two groups, one, the mothers of the lower grade children, led by Miss Margaret Keuhl, and the other, the mothers of the third to sixth grade children led by Miss Van Scoyoc, for an informal discussion.

Roosevelt

The last meeting of the Roosevelt P.T.A. was held Tuesday.

The meeting opened with the singing of "America" by the whole assembly. This meeting was dedicated to mothers and daughters. "Girls" quite naturally suggested the portion, which Mrs. Fred Medbury chose to read from the book, "The Child, His Nature, and His Needs." Miss Edith Cornell, assisted by Miss Ruth Armstrong at the piano, sang a group of Russian songs. This plaintive type of music pleased. Miss Cornell gave a short talk by way of interpreting her numbers, and her program was enjoyed.

Miss Thelma Patton, athletic enthusiast, talked of the importance of athletics for girls. Miss Patton was very earnest in her plea for the encouragement of athletics for girls.

The officers for the coming year were elected and introduced to the group. They are as follows: president, Mrs. Frank Was; vice president, Mrs. Richard Cribario; secretary, Mrs. J. E. Preston; treasurer, Miss Margaret Grant; parliamentarian, Mrs. Roy Beall, and historian, Mrs. S. E. Bradley.

Refreshments of jello and waters were served. This had a double purpose: first, in pleasing the guests, and second, in introducing them to "Ready-Jell" which was soon to be put on sale by the children.

Franklin

The Franklin P.T.A. met in the kindergarten room Tuesday evening. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Stewart. A short business meeting followed and then a play and program by the sixth grade was presented. The new president and other officers were introduced.

The P.T.A. presented the past president with a past president's pin.

Mrs. O. A. Harman, Mrs. E. S. Best, Mrs. Hendricks and Mrs. Rankin were appointed delegates to the state convention to be held in San Bernardino. The meeting adjourned and a pleasant social hour followed.

Julia Lathrop

The Julia Lathrop Parent-Teacher association held its last regular meeting of the year in the rotunda, Thursday evening, May 20, when the annual election and installation of officers took place.

Mrs. Fay Spangler, president of the City Federation of Parents and Teachers, introduced and installed the following officers for the coming year 1926-1927:

Mrs. Gerrard, president; Miss Eunice Adams, first vice president; Mrs. Neal Beisel, second vice president; Miss Elizabeth Bruner, recording secretary; Miss Florence Kline, corresponding secretary; Mrs. F. E. McCarter, treasurer.

Mrs. Spangler also presented Mrs. Greer, the outgoing president, with a past president's pin.

Miss Mabel Wing of the social science department, gave an illustrated lecture of her trip abroad, which was greatly enjoyed by all present. Clyde Downing, representing the chamber of commerce, explained the issues of the coming bond election. Plans were announced regarding bus accommodations to the state convention to be held in San Bernardino, Saturday, May 29, 1926.

Under the direction of Miss Edith

Roosevelt

Cornell, several selections for the opera, "The Gypsy Rover," were given. This opera will be given in the high school auditorium, Thursday and Friday evenings, May 28 and 29.

Ralph Greer gave two violin numbers, accompanied at the piano by his mother, Mrs. G. N. Greer. Miss Cornell led the community singing, assisted at the piano by Duncan Harnois.

Following the meeting a general inspection tour was made of the school. Teachers' nest rooms. These rooms had been made most attractive under the direction of Mrs. Fred Ross and her able assistants, Mrs. F. E. McCarter, Miss Edith Cornell, Miss Dorothy Carothers, Mrs. Roy Lindsay and Mrs. G. The low third grade has been having great fun reading and dramatizing "Hansel and Gretel" in the reading classes. Friday, these children presented this little play before their classmates. The presentation was appreciated by the audience. The characters were: Hansel, Robert Forney; Gretel, Opal Moore; Mother, Naomi Dunnie; Father, Philip McDonald; Sandman, Marian Pletke; Dewman, Harry Brown; Witch, Nellie Laub; the three Gingerbread children, Roger Valencia, Geraldine Alder and Opal Mulkey and Echo, Mac Beall. The ushers were Naomi Dunnie and Marian Pletke.

Picture Show

Not so long ago, Roosevelt school gave a moving picture show at the high school. They showed "Cinderella" for the children especially, "George Washington, Jr." and "Felix Follows the Swallow." The picture was a distinct success.

Miss Gladys Campbell furnished the music for the afternoon and evening performances. A ticket selling afternoon was instituted in connection with this show. It was very effective for the children were securing around everywhere to dispose of their tickets. A prize was offered to the child selling the most tickets. Nellie Lamb, a high third grade girl, sold 12 tickets and received the award.

Ready-Jell

Another contest was on last week to sell "Ready-Jell." This time, a party was promised the room who sold the greatest number of packages. The children in Miss Lindquist's room were victors and there was much excitement when the last child came in with his money.

Artesia

May Festival

Before a large crowd of very interested visitors the pupils of Artesia school presented a very beautiful and successful Twilight May festival Friday evening, May 21, at 6:30 o'clock.

As Mrs. Stella Franzen at the piano, played "Welcome to May," the May queen, Henrietta Armendariz, entered with her attendants, Consuelo Soya, Jose Lara, Bobbie Caesares and Annie Ariola. The May queen was a pretty picture in her pink and white robes, her arms filled with flowers, with her dainty little attendants gown in pink.

After the queen was seated Jesse Ruiz entered with the children's tribute to their queen, a basket of beautiful May flowers. Then the following program was very ably given:

Song, "Welcome to May," 12 girls. "I See You," singing game, kindergarten; "The Golden Keys," Nemecio Flores; A Minuet, First and Second grades; A Doll's Lullaby, Patricia Murrillo; A May Dance, First grade; Song, "Sailor Boys," 10 boys; Hanging May Baskets, Carmen Segovia; "The Flag," Ben Jamin; Song, Action song, first grade; "A Fishin' Pole and Line," Felix Morales; Flower drill, third grade girls; "Let's Have a Picnic," Mary Gomez; May Pole dance, 12 girls; song, "The May Queen" upper grades.

The stage was very nicely decorated with palms, pepper boughs and many beautiful flowers. A tidy sum of money was received from the sale of popcorn, candy and lead punch after the program.

The Cope Electric company furnished the necessary lighting equipment for the occasion and Whitson Lumber company the lumber for the out-door seating arrangements.

Julia Lathrop

Classroom work at Lathrop has been taking an interesting form during the past weeks. Training which has been given during the year is being applied to practical and workable purposes and the results are most gratifying to both teachers and students. Miss Nora Reid's 5 B1 citizenship class held a spirited debate on the question: "Be It Resolved, that the Government Should Own the Railroad." After some well balanced arguments on both sides of the question, the negative side won the decision of the judges.

Mr. Worden's class in copper and silver work is doing some splendid work. Several monogram signet rings are indicative of the excellent workmanship produced in this department. In the electrical department soldering irons and electric toasters rival those to be bought anywhere, while the repairing of washing machine motors and the making of battery chargers and storage batteries for radios done at the shop speak well for the repair work.

Luncheon Is Given

On May 18 a delightful luncheon was given by a group of low nine girls to a group of girls from the 6W graduating class. Mrs. Ira M. Webber and Miss Mable Wing attended the luncheon, which was well appointed and capably managed by the low nine hostesses.

Faculty Entertained

Wednesday evening, May 19, the Lathrop faculty enjoyed a dinner at Miss Bemus' charming Laguna Beach home. The faculty entertainment committee, Miss Mary Henderson, Miss Dorothy Hunt, Miss Florence Kline, Miss Lona Brokaw, Miss Birdie Anderson and Miss Ethel Sinka have been responsible for a number of social events during the year and this one was particularly delightful. A delicious three-course dinner with a color motif of spring shades ended the series of Lathrop faculty parties for the year. The committee has been untiring in its effort toward entertainment and Lathrop's teachers are very appreciative of this fact.

Women in Fight For Recognition

SIMLA, May 25.—The Gazette contains important rules regarding the election of women to legislatures. Hitherto, women have been ineligible for election or nomination to any legislature save in Burma. The new rules provide that in all legislatures, including the Council of State, a resolution may be moved after one month's notice, permitting the election or nomination of any woman as a member.

If the resolution is adopted, the government concerned will make regulations giving effect to the decision.

DECIDE FEZ IS NOT HEADGEAR OF ARABS

JERUSALEM, May 25.—At a meeting attended by Christian and Moslem Arabs, it was decided that the fez was not a national Arab headgear and had no religious significance, and the adoption of the European hat was advocated.

In April, 1924, the fez was discarded as an unofficial headgear in Iraq, and the sikke, which is not unlike the British forage cap, was introduced to replace it. In Turkey, in October, 1925, the wearing of fezzes was prohibited by the government.

In Egypt, however, where a number of students made a demonstration in favor of the abolition of the turban—which, though rather tall, is otherwise similar in appearance to the fez—and the adoption of hats, the Grand Mufti issued a fatwa to the effect that the wearing of European hats was contrary to the Moslem religion.

ELECTION DAY, VOTE

Tomorrow, vote!
Tomorrow three important proposals come before the people of Santa Ana.

By this time, no doubt, you have made up your mind concerning each of these proposals. All available information concerning each of them has been laid before you conscientiously. The Register, some time ago, repeatedly urged that everybody who had any question to ask concerning any of the propositions to send that question to The Register. We offered to interview those in a position to best answer the question, and to publish the answer. This program seeking information has been carried out.

Having made up your mind, there remains a duty for you to perform. That duty is to go to the polls and vote as you believe.

First, vote upon the proposal that Santa Ana issue bonds to pay for an extension of the outfall sewer ordered by the State Board of Health.

Second, vote upon the proposal that Santa Ana issue bonds for the purchase of parks.

Third, vote upon the proposal that each year Santa Ana raise special funds for publicity and music. The City Trustees may fix the rate each year, but cannot put the rate at more than six cents per $100 of assessed valuation for publicity nor more than six cents for music.

Don't let these matters go by default. If they win, let them win by a vote that will be an adequate expression of the voters of Santa Ana. If they lose, let them go down to defeat only because a large proportion of the voters of Santa Ana want them defeated.

Let each proposition win or lose for the reason that a large proportion of the voters of Santa Ana are good enough citizens to go to the polls tomorrow and register their definite opinions upon these three very definite propositions.

MODERN SCHOOLBOYS

A prominent British educator says this about the British schoolboy:

"The modern schoolboy demands far more variety and greater width of interest than his predecessor, and is more imaginative. By splitting his interests, it is true, he does not reach that level of knowledge in any particular study attained by his predecessors, who concentrated on a narrow field of work. The present generation has quite definitely a far greater interest, for example, in art, drama and musical appreciation, which is reflected, indeed, in the curricula of our public schools and the life of educational institutions throughout the country. These new interests were, no doubt, the latent possession of his predecessors in the 'nineties, but they were allowed to remain undeveloped, and no appeal was made to them. 'The obvious result of this change has been to strengthen the boy's individuality.'"

It is likely that these things are equally true of the American schoolboy or girl. Here, however, there is complaint of too much variety and a scattering of interests which may mean also a scattering of abilities. We hear, too, complaints that our schools are turning out standardized boys and girls, all just alike and lacking individuality.

There is some truth in these criticisms as there is truth in the Englishman's observations. And possibly there is a golden mean still to be attained in which concentration and breadth of interest can both be achieved.

UNCLE SAM IN THE ARCTIC

There was much discussion last year of using Uncle Sam's big dirigible, Los Angeles, for an Arctic exploring trip, and public sentiment seemed to favor the project. The proposal has come up again lately, with the sudden fervor of polar voyaging that started with Lieut. Byrd's flight. But most people now will probably agree with Secretary Wilbur that it is better not to use the Los Angeles for such a purpose at this time.

Apparently there is plenty of exploring being done in the Arctic region now by private enterprise, or with the moderate assistance of our own and other governments. A dozen expeditions are already under way. The Arctic ocean is going to be raked fore and aft and crosswise this spring and summer until there will be, in all probability, little left for discovery.

When that task is being so thoroughly handled without him, Uncle Sam can very well devote his attention and his limited supply of dependable aircraft to other fields. Amundsen's experience has shown the peril to dirigibles in the Far North. It will be time enough for expensive federal adventures around the Pole when this country has attained a moderate surplus of air power.

ACCIDENTS WON'T HAPPEN

Modern activity in behalf of safety is disproving the old saying "Accidents will happen." There is a growing conviction that accidents won't happen unless they are caused by ignorance, carelessness, neglect of some known means of prevention.

Wherever mechanical appliances are necessary to effect safety, they should be installed as rapidly as possible. But even with the most complete systems for safety, a human element nearly always is involved. Consistent and persistent education and training are needed to reduce this element to its lowest possible state. Habits of carelessness are sometimes hard to develop, but they are rarely impossible.

VISIBLE RADIO ANNOUNCER

Women in large numbers are said to be smitten by the hypnotic voices of radio broadcasters, as they formerly were—and probably are yet—by matinee idols and male movie stars. There is a certain "allure," as the feminine fiction writers would say, to a musical masculine voice coming mysteriously out of the air. So it happens that popular announcers are overwhelmed with requests for photographs and have to spend a lot of their valuable time auto-graphing and mailing them.

That little difficulty is going to be remedied, says an officer of the Radio Manufacturers' association. Before long, with the perfection of a television instrument, the broadcasters' faces and figures will be visible to their listeners.

We hope none of the charmed hearers will be disappointed, but fear for them.

"They all look good when they're far away." Invisibly stirs the imagination. Radio announcers are chosen for their voices rather than for their looks. It may be a sad day for many a damsel when, thrilling to the sound of her favorite announcer's voice, she looks into the magic far-seer alongside of the loudspeaker and discovers a commonplace person doing his day's work in a commonplace way.

A scientist says that "of all sounds, a baby's cry has the greatest carrying power." How about those frogs that boom in the spring, trala, that are less than one inch long and can wake you up half a mile away?

Poland's Financial Politics

—Frederic Republican

There are very few immediate "friends of Poland" in this part of America. For there has been almost no immigration here from that part of east central Europe. In some parts of the United States there is a heavy Polish element in the population. But not here. Our interest in Poland is almost purely academic.

But that interest, bookish though it be, is large. What school boy does not remember how "Kosciuszko fell?" And "Thaddeus of Warsaw" is still a name. Probably no tale of political infamy has been oftener told than that of the partition of Poland between the mutually rival empires of Russia, Austria and Prussia.

It is to this bookish, academic interest in Poland, felt for generations in America and in western Europe, that the people of that race may thank for their chance to become a separate state. True, there was the additional fact of the bolshevik revolution. Had the czar not fallen, it is extremely doubtful whether it would have been possible for the Allies to agree on a separate Polish realm.

This new Poland is a conspicuous figure in the political development of Europe, as remarkable in its way as the growth of Italy. There never was an "Italy" until it was constructed by Garibaldi and Victor Emmanuel and Cavour. There never was a Poland in the modern sense until it was given its freedom by the great war and its first political leadership by Paderewski and its military prestige by Pilsudski.

Now this Pilsudski is the first man to make a break in the political continuity of the new republic.

There is no need for the friends of Poland in the United States to "despair of the republic" because there has been a revolution at Warsaw. Revolutions can get to be a bad habit, but there is no sign that there will be a habit formed because of Paderewski.

The serious fact about the revolt is that it results from a financial crisis at Warsaw. It is the "zloty" that has played the mischief with the administration, and has given an excuse for new leadership. Threatened repudiation of the currency may now become actual.

The Polish people, as a race, have a remarkable stability, much more than their zloties.

Should Be Consistent

—Pasadena Star-News

There is a municipal judge in Los Angeles who is making life miserable for speeding motorists. They are going to jail by scores. It matters not who they are, Judge Chambers has an eye single to the terrorizing of speeders by throwing them into jail. Doubtless the offenses warrant prison. But the process of administering justice, as it affects speeders, generally speaking, is open to question as to its effectiveness.

It is regrettable that in some municipalities there are spurts of rigor and severity on the part of speed officers and trial courts. And then come lapses of laxity, in which speeding proceeds practically without molestation.

It would be very much better to have system in this—to have the laws and ordinances against speeding enforced rigorously and impartially, at all times, in all places. There should be uniformity of regulatory requirements, in the first place—uniformity as to all cities and counties in the state. Then motorists would know what they may do and what is prohibited. Their course then would be with full knowledge of the inhibitions upon them.

There should be consistency and persistency in rigorous enforcement of ordinances against speeding. There should be no periods of lax enforcement of anti-speeding ordinances. The motorist should be made to realize that any exceeding of speed limits today, tomorrow, next week, next month or next year would bring arrest and punishment. This would make anti-speeding ordinances much more effective. The ordinances mean little unless they are enforced systematically and fairly, but relentlessly.

PLAGUE, DISEASE OF RATS

Plague is primarily a disease of rats and certain other rodents, such as the ground squirrel in the United States and the marmot, a burrowing rodent of Russia and China.

The disease occurs in human beings in three forms. The bubonic is the most common form so far in recent times.

The septicemic usually occurs side by side with the bubonic type. The pneumonic, about the most fatal of all types, which spreads rapidly from one person to another, occurs particularly among persons who are poorly fed, poorly housed and huddled together in overcrowded, insanitary places of abode.

The bubonic and septicemic types can hardly be said to be directly contagious—the pneumonic type under bad sanitary and poor economic conditions is very contagious.

If the bubonic and septicemic types are not contagious, how, it has been asked, do human beings get the disease? The answer is—through infected fleas—usually certain very definite species of fleas that have fed on infected rodents, particularly rats, sometimes by human fleas.

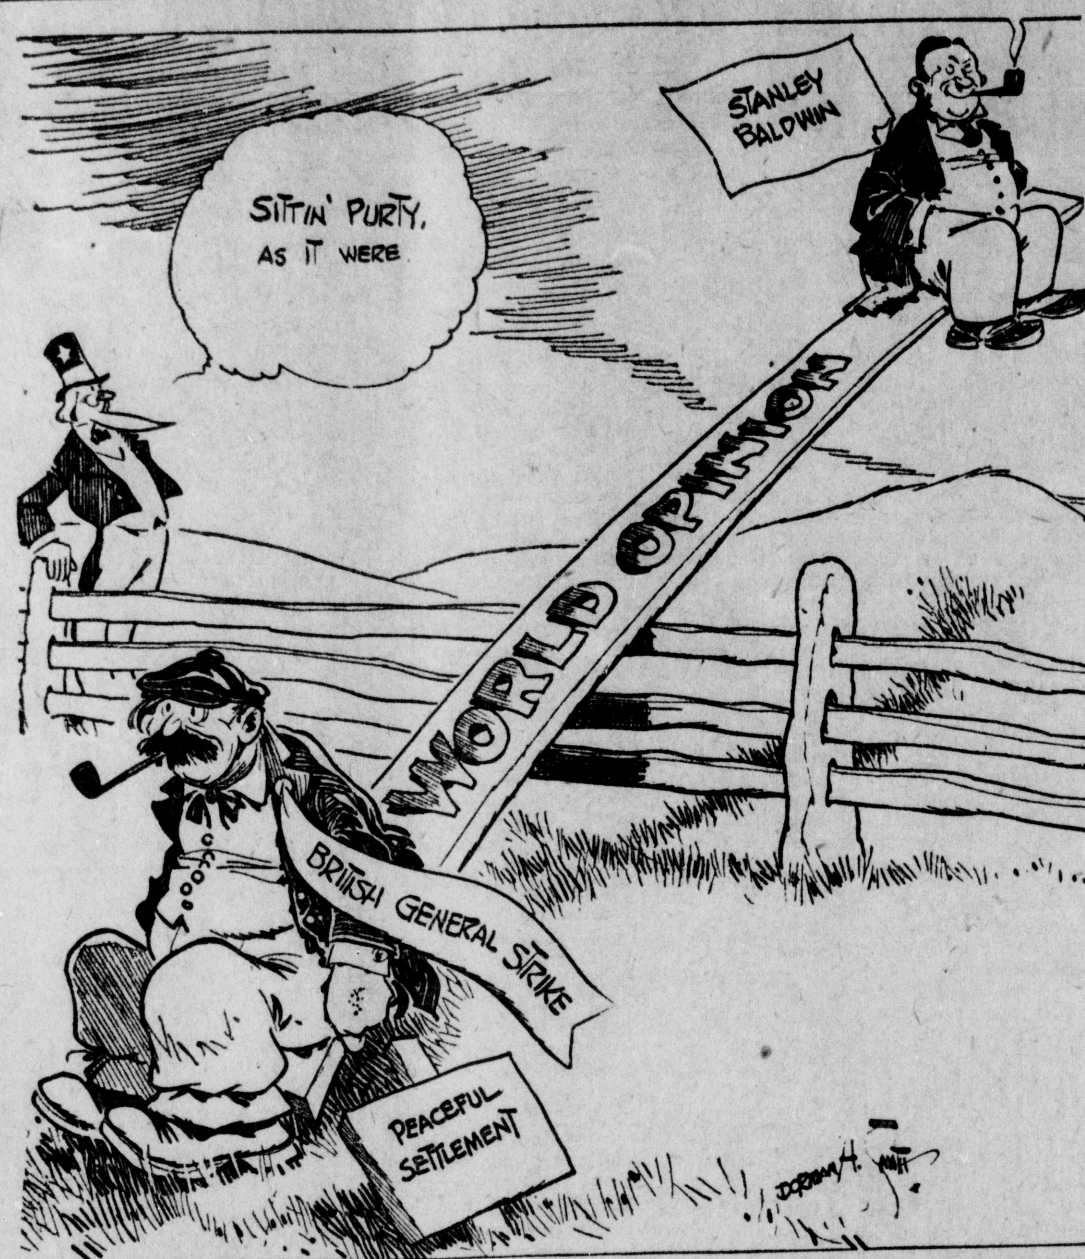

The chief manifestation of the bubonic type is the bubo or enlarged tender swollen gland—hence the name bubonic.

The septicemic type is the one in which the plague germ enters the blood stream directly and the patient is overwhelmed and dies usually in a very short time, in from 24 hours or less to two or three days.

Such cases are often difficult to recognize except by laboratory examinations of the blood or more often bacteriological examination of the tissues of the body after death, from which tissues the germ of the disease may be obtained.

The pneumonic type is recognized by the symptoms of pneumonic and the blood tinged sputum which is teeming with plague germs. These germs can easily be recognized with the microscope by certain other well-known laboratory tests.

Going Up in the World

Call of the Road

—Oakland Tribune

One does not need good ears and well-trained to hear the call of the open road. It is expressed in color, in bird song, and road maps; it drifts on the breeze into an office window, falls with the moonlight on a sleeping porch.

"Let us then be up and doing," it says, "up and stepping on the gas." This state of great scenic wonders, this entire marvelous Pacific-Northwest which a few years ago was a region so large, and its beauty spots so inaccessible, that none but the adventurous possessing stamina and leisure time could hope to see a small part of the wonders, had been opened in a quarter-century as if by magic.

The open road and the vehicle which can travel over it swiftly have worked astounding educational changes. A few hours from the city finds vacationers in the heart of the Mother Lode, in the big trees, the mountains, or on a rugged coast line.

Now that call is sounding and is being answered by the purr of motors. Camping equipment is shaken out and hiking clothes are in style. Once more the people of the cities will learn first hand some of the things which are being done in the country and will be benefited by the experience.

Worth While Verse

BE MY FRIEND

Be my friend and understand
Everything I do.
Be my friend and take my hand
With a meaning true.
Be my friend and stick to me
Gay or gray days through.
Be like that and let me be
Just like that to you.

Be my friend and comfort me
When the days are sad,
Be my friend and smile with me
When my heart is glad.
Be my friend, and what is yours
It shall be mine too.
And I ask that I may be
Just like that to you.

For I have such need of you
Every day I live,
And what I may need, that too
I have need to give.
Be my friend, make wide love's gate
That I may walk through.
Be my friend and let me be
Just like that to you.

Christian Scientists' Stand on Prohibition

That the Christian Science church is strongly and emphatically for prohibition was declared by A. Padgham of Santa Ana, who stated that efforts had been made by anti-prohibition forces in places, to make it appear that the Christian Science church is not for prohibition. Padgham presented an editorial recently published by the Christian Science Monitor, from which the following paragraphs are herewith reprinted:

"New allies of the anti-prohibition forces are trying to make it appear that the Christian Scientists of the United States are divided on the liquor question. It is even asserted in glaring headlines that 'Mary Baker Eddy Opposed Prohibition,' and the effort is made thereby to mislead her followers. Mary Baker Eddy advocated prohibition before she discovered Christian Science. At Lynn, Mass., in 1864, she became a member of the Independent Order of Good Templars, and soon became one of the officers and one of the speakers of the local lodge of this order. Long afterwards of this lodge have recalled and related that Mrs. Eddy's part in its meetings always was noticeable as being dignified, courteous, effective and impressive (Life of Mary Baker Eddy, 1923 edition, p. 118).

"When Mrs. Eddy joined the Good Templars, the platform of this order included the following planks: 'Total abstinence from all intoxicating liquor as a beverage' and 'The absolute prohibition of the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors for such purposes.'"

"There is not a word in Mrs. Eddy's writings which can be fairly construed to indicate that she would have been in favor of modifying in any degree a constitution or law prohibiting the sale of intoxicating drink."

"Among the Christian Science churches and their members there is today no doubt as to the position they should hold on this question. The chief executive authority of the church is the Board of Directors of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. This body, on the fifteenth of April last, adopted the following resolutions and caused them to be presented to the Senate Judiciary Committee:

"Whereas, A determined effort is being made by the opponents of the prohibition law of the United States to invalidate the operation of that law and to legalize the sale of intoxicating liquors in this country, be it

"Resolved, By the Board of Directors of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, that as citizens and as Christian Scientists we do hereby pledge our hearty support to the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and to the federal enforcement law enacted under that amendment; and be it further

"Resolved, That we denounce the endeavor to repeal that Amendment, or to modify, in the direction of greater latitude, the Volstead Act as an effort to re-establish the traffic in alcoholic liquor, and as a menace to the industrial, economic, social and moral welfare of the people of the United States."

"The organization of the Christian Science Church provides for complete local self-government. But with one accord the branch churches, and individual Christian Scientists, followed the action of the Board of Directors. On the day set aside for this purpose by the Senate Committee, resolutions upholding prohibition were presented from 234 Christian Science churches and 75 societies, together with telegrams from 506 individuals. Other hundreds of such communications, too late to get into the official record, have come to the Washington office of The Christian Science Monitor and are still coming. To date they number 615 from churches, 235 from societies, and 1290 from individuals. Not one official declaration from an authorized church hostile to prohibition can be cited.

"Any effort to make it appear that there is dissension among Christian Scientists upon this issue is obviously misleading and must fail. The Discoverer of Christian Science, and Founder of this newspaper, wrote of the insidious effort of error to undermine law: 'Certain elements in human nature would undermine the civic, social, and religious rights and laws of nations and peoples, striking at liberty, human rights, and self-government—and this, too, in the name of God, Justice, and humanity!' (Message to the Mother Church for 1900, p. 10.)"

Rattlesnakes

Two items in the news point the right and wrong attitude toward rattlesnake danger. One from Southern California, tells of the death of a four-year-old boy from the bites of a rattlesnake which 'attacked the child while at play on his father's mountain ranch.'"

Rattlesnakes do not attack anyone. They are not bold, irritable demons like the Indian cobra. The rattlesnake's tactics are always based on escape. When approached, he tries to get away. If too closely pressed, he coils and stands ready to defend himself. But he never runs after anyone.

As a practical matter, the rattlesnake is not very dangerous to any person old enough to let him alone. He is an extremely slow snake; he usually, though not invariably, gives warning by rattling—a sound which will never be mistaken for anything else, though other sounds may often be mistaken for it—he can't bite through a good leather boot; he is not very numerous and he is filled with an earnest desire to escape. And when seen he is not easily mistaken for any other snake.

The other item bears this out. It is the story of a man who slipped and fell on his back squarely on a rattlesnake. He was badly scared but not bitten.

The best proof that the rattlesnake danger is slight is found in the extreme rarity of cases where human beings have been bitten. Most of these have been cases of children. The rattlesnake is dangerous to unattended children not old enough to look out for him. But to all other persons with eyesight he is no cause whatever for fearing to walk the hills. He is found throughout the United States. He has never been considered a menace anywhere.—San Francisco Chronicle.

More Dogs

During the last fiscal year, ended June 30, 1925, according to the report of the bureau of animal industry, more purebred dogs were imported than any other kind of purebred domestic animal.

The official figures are as follows: dogs, 1666; cattle, 1426; sheep, 840; horses, 339; swine, 21; cats, 14. Compared with the preceding year, imported purebred dogs and sheep show a considerable decrease.

All of the foregoing numbers, department officials point out, are very small in proportion to the total number of domestic animals in this country, which is about 200 million head. The figures are small also in comparison with native purebred livestock, which though only about three per cent of the total, number several million head. The United States, though still acquiring small numbers of purebred breeding stock from abroad, apparently raises almost all of its finely bred domestic animals.—Argonaut.

Speech Physical Exercise

—Science Service Bulletin

"Speech should be taught as a physical exercise—as a sitting up, looking at, breathing deep exercises." is the opinion of John F. Opdycke of New York, who surveys the language situation in America and makes a plea for better treatment of voice and words, in a forthcoming issue of American Speech.

Mr. Opdycke finds that laziness is the cause of most of the shortcomings in children's speech; and he recommends that the physical training department in the average junior and senior high school should work actively in co-operation with the English department in making alert, clear-thinking speakers of the students.

The English teacher's fight against speech laziness is bound to be a hard one, he points out, so long as business men talk around cigars and women mumble and "allow their voices." But the fight is worth while, because a good voice is one of the greatest personal, professional and business assets that a school can furnish to its students.

Every teacher of English should be obliged to qualify for the teaching of oral English simultaneously with his qualifying as a teacher of 'written' English." Mr. Opdycke declares.
